COMMERCIAL BODIES SAY TO PREPARE

To Protest Dignity of United States, Through Accredited Delegates

TO LAKE MOHONK ARBITRATION CONFERENCE

PREPAREDNESS, KEYNOTE

And Chambers of Commerce Throughout Nation Favor This Policy, and Align Themselves With Party Urging Adequate Increase In the United States' Army and Navy.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 21.—The delegates appointed to attend the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration by chambers of commerce and similar business organizations in most of the large cities of the country aligned themselves today with the advocates of greater military preparation for national defense. The delegates included manufacturers, merchants and officers of the country's principal commercial organizations. Their part in the activities of the conference has been emphasized this year by speakers, among them General Leonard Wood, who declared that the most prolific cause of war was the interests of trade.

The report of the business men's committee, read by Chairman L. M. Cuthbert of Denver, declared that disputes between nations "ought to be justly settled through the proceedings of international tribunals instead of war." Nevertheless, the committee asserted its belief "that it is the part of wisdom at present for the United States to be fully prepared to defend itself from possible injustice and aggression," and advocated "the strengthening of our military and naval forces so as to effectively protect our coasts."

The report recommended the formation of a code of international law, the establishment of a permanent international court of justice and of an international police force to execute the decrees of the court. In conclusion, the business delegates bespoke for President Wilson in his "delicate and trying position" the "cordial and hearty sympathy and assistance of all citizens, regardless of section or party."

Edward A. Filene, of Boston, national councillor of the chamber of commerce of the United States, urged that the United States should be willing to make sacrifices to prove its right to a place in the councils which eventually will settle the war.

Mr. Filene, who spent four months in the war zone, said there was a growing sentiment in favor of a world court, discussed at the recent congress in Cleveland. He was doubtful, however, whether the United States would wish to be involved in an alliance which would depend upon military force to carry out the decree of such a court. In place of force he advocated a policy of non-intercourse with recalcitrant nations.

William A. Weir, justice of the supreme court of the Province of Quebec, praised the "calm wisdom" of the United States government in its diplomatic relations with the Eu-

SCRATCH CAUSE OF BLOOD POISONING PHYSICIAN IS DEAD.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Akron, O., May 21.—Dr. M. D. Stevenson, 35, prominent specialist, died in a hospital this morning of blood poisoning, as a result of a scratch on his finger one week ago. He was married in February last to Miss Martha von Novelly, daughter of a prominent Vienna civil engineer.
Dr. Stevenson has written several books and pamphlets on medical subjects. He was co-editor of "Ophthalmology," a national medical magazine. He was a member of the American Medical Association in Vienna, was affiliated with the American Medical Association and in 1914 became a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He was the only physician in Akron "Who's Who."

ropean belligerents and Simeon E. Baldwin, former governor of Connecticut, spoke on "Avoiding occasions for war."

Justice Weir praised the humanitarian efforts of Americans. "The gratitude of the stricken hero soldier," he said, "of widowed mothers and famished children in every section of bloodstained Europe creates a new halo round 'Old Glory' that the coming centuries will never dim."

His theme was "Democracy and Peace." He spoke to support the proposition "that the spread of Democracy is the first step necessary for the diminution or prevention of wars; that the leadership of the nations by their nobility, their military classes and their materialistic plutocrats has failed to advance the cause of peace or the happiness of the peoples, and that such leadership must be changed or strongly controlled before international arbitration and law shall reign supreme."

"Should the central European powers succeed," he concluded, "there will follow, apart from the penalties to be inflicted on the defeated nations, serious interference with the rights of the people of the Balkan peninsula and an attempt to control in the interest of German industrialism the great markets of the world."

SWAN SONG OF STATE LIQUOR LICENSE BOARD

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, May 21.—The annual report of the state liquor licensing commission, which has just been distributed, comes as the last statement of that tribunal, which is soon to pass out of existence and the commissioners take the opportunity to point out the good features of the provisions of the law. It declares that the self-enforcing, self-executing provisions of the law have earned respect for not only this law, but for all laws regulating the liquor traffic.

There were 98 prosecutions of licensees during the year for such violations, resulting in 91 convictions. Three licenses were cancelled; 46 were voluntarily surrendered, and 30 applications for renewals were denied. With the steady progress made toward the elimination of the trouble-making saloon, the commission believes that real advancement and elevation of the traffic will be accomplished.

Members of the county boards are given credit "for making the administration of the law a success."

"Since the liquor traffic," concludes the report, "was recognized in Ohio by the state constitution, 1493 saloons have been abolished in Ohio in the interest of better moral conditions and independent of those."

RETIREMENT DEAN PRICE EXPLAINED

President W. O. Thompson, Of O. S. U., Says Willis Had No Hand

BUT TRUSTEES' REQUEST FOR HIS RESIGNATION

WAS MERELY COINCIDENT

With That of the Governor for That of Heads of Several State Commissions—Former Licking County Man Refused Another Position at University.

Columbus O., May 21.—President W. O. Thompson of the Ohio State University, last night broke the silence he has maintained on the subject of the action of the University Trustees in requesting the resignation of Homer C. Price, dean of the College of Agriculture. President Thompson said in part:

"In view of the fact that the press has circulated the statement that political influences have been at work in the Board of Trustees of the Ohio State University influencing the trustees' action with reference to Dean Homer C. Price, I submit the following statement:

"On March 30, 1915, the Board of Trustees adopted the following resolution:

"That it is the sense of this board that Prof. H. C. Price can serve the university best as Professor of Rural Economics on and after June 30, 1915."

"After this resolution was adopted I requested the secretary not to send the formal notice until I had had time for a personal interview with Professor Price. I failed to reach Professor Price the following morning and left for Alabama during the Easter vacation and did not return until late Monday evening, April 5. I failed to reach Prof. Price Tuesday, the 6th, but on the morning of Wednesday, April 7, we had an interview, at which time I gave him an account of the action.

"The very next day announcement was made in the press that the Governor of the state had requested the resignation of the members of several commissions, including the members of the Agricultural Commission, of which Dean Price is a member by appointment from the trustees.

"The coincidence between this request and the announcement of the action of the Trustees led the newspaper reporters to assume that there was an understanding between the Governor and the Trustees. As a matter of fact, no communication had passed between the Governor and the Trustees since his inauguration.

"The Trustees have not yet called upon the Governor. Three of them never have met him personally, and there was no knowledge on the part of the President or of the Trustees that the resignations above referred to were to be requested.

"Prof. Price has declined to continue as Professor of Rural Economics. At a meeting of the Board of Trustees, Tuesday, May 18, Prof. Paul L. Vogt, Ph. D. of Miami University was elected Professor of Rural Economics."

Invitations have been extended to representatives of the Ohio State Grange and other agricultural interests to appear before the Board of Trustees of the university June 1, when a public statement is to be made relative to the severance of the relations with the college of Dean Price.

George F. Burba, secretary to former Governor Cox when told of the Thompson statement, said:

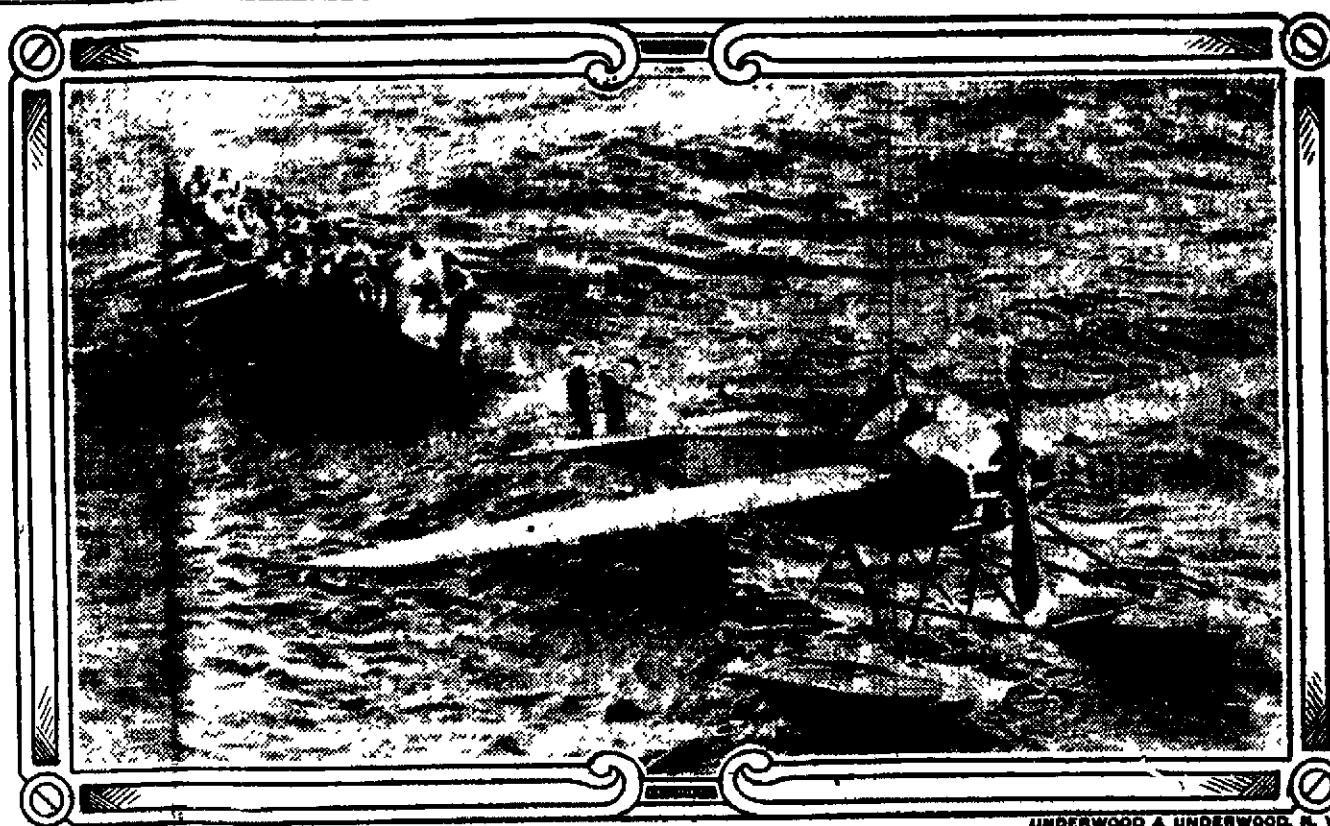

"The facts are that President Thompson desired the job on the State Agricultural Commission himself."

KILLED HUSBAND; PLEADED GUILTY; GETS 20 YEARS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—Mrs. Cynthia Buffum, the Little Valley woman who has been on trial in supreme court here for two weeks on a charge of murdering her husband, Willis Buffum, by giving him repeated doses of arsenic, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree today. The decision to plead guilty was reached by Mrs. Buffum and her lawyers after a conference that extended into the early hours of this morning. District Attorney Laidlaw was at once apprised of the situation and agreed to accept the plea.

Mrs. Buffum was sentenced to not less than 20 years imprisonment.

Switzerland Will Demand Reparation from Germany; Three Lost On Lusitania

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berne, Switzerland, May 21.—Via Paris.—The Swiss federal authorities have decided to make suitable representations to Germany on the sinking May 7, of the Cunard liner Lusitania by a German submarine as a result of which three Swiss citizens lost their lives. The government is waiting the German reply to the Washington note on this subject to better be able to choose a course of procedure.

The Swiss think well of President Wilson's note but to most newspapers it appears to be hardly strong enough.

The argument is being made here by Swiss observers that the Swiss representations will have great weight because behind them there will be the Swiss army, 500,000 strong.

Records made public shortly after the loss of the Lusitania showed that John Fenwick, a Swiss citizen, was among those who lost their lives. He was a first cabin passenger. The list of nationalities on board the Lusitania shows that in the second cabin there were two persons whose nationality was not known. It is also possible that there were Swiss citizens among the crew of the liner.

OHIO SOLONS PASS 250 OUT OF 1040 BILLS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, O., May 21.—Members of the joint conference on the proposed congressional so-called "gerrymander" failed to make material progress in their first deliberations today and no definite hope was held out for an early agreement. The house members of the committee were reported to be holding out against the entire list of senate changes in the bill. The senate members spent their time pounding away at the house contingent in an effort to make them budge. It is the understanding that the senate conferees are willing to make large concessions insofar as the northeastern and southeastern parts of the state are concerned, but that they will insist on their stand in reference to the northwestern and western districts. The senate proposed in its bill to restore Putnam county to the fifth district. The house bill placed it in the fifth. This particular question is causing the greatest trouble among the conferees now.

The senate finance committee today delved into the big appropriation bills and proposed to work steadily until the assembly reconvenes on May 27. It may decide this afternoon to go to Buckeye Lake to look over improvements there for which the house has given money and may decide to remain at the lake for the rest of its deliberations.

The 81st general assembly passed nearly 250 of the 1,040 bills introduced. In the category of major measures approved are the following:

Bills recamping the tax laws, civil service, agriculture commission law, liquor license system, the school code, the highways statutes; a bill repealing the law restricting the right of students to vote; a bill repealing the law proposing to separate state and national candidates in presidential elections; a measure giving the state banking department supervision over salary and charter loan agencies; a proposal transferring from the secretary of state to the common pleas court the authority to pass upon the validity of initiative and referendum petitions; a measure repealing the Green law which sought to compel the run of mine system as the basis for wage scale agreement between coal miners and operators; a bill giving state authorities greater power to prevent violations of the medical and drug laws, a bill restricting the power of the banking authorities in the liquidation of failed banks; a bill giving the state utilities commission the right to suspend freight rate increases pending proof of their reasonableness.

Among the important bills which failed were those proposing to grant a one-half cent passenger fare increase to the railroads; to grant financial relief to cities; to restrict the right of cities to issue bonds for municipally-owned utilities and to extend the terms of county offices.

THIRD ARREST IN LIMA, O., SCANDAL

Lima, Ohio, May 21.—The third arrest in the Central avenue bridge scandal was made here today when an indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday was served on Beach Graham, county commissioner. Enos Huffer, another commissioner and John K. Brice, county surveyor, were arrested yesterday. Fraud in connection with a contract for constructing the bridge is alleged.

EXCHANGE RATES ARE NOW LOWEST SINCE WAR BEGAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 21.—Rates of exchange between New York and London fell today to lowest quotations since the war and the lowest in over a generation. Demand bills were sold, according to report, at 4.78, which implied a further depreciation to the British pound sterling at this center.

Francs also showed greater weakness on small acceptances, while lire or remittances on Rome were notably lower with no actual transactions.

RIGGS' CASE ATTRACTING BIG CROWD

Senator Bailey's Clash With Court Yesterday Stirs Up Interest

UNTERMYER ALSO EXPLAINS STATEMENTS HE HAD MADE

JUDGE EXONERATES HIM

Of Any Intent at Deception—Discretion of Comptroller in Calling for Special Reports From Banks, Subjected to Arraignment When the Argument Was Resumed This Morning.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 21.—A big crowd of spectators drawn as a result of yesterday's clash between former Senator Bailey and Justice McCoy filled the District supreme courtroom today at the resumption of arguments on the government's motion for the dismissal of the treasury injunction by the Riggs National bank against treasury officials.

Senator Bailey of counsel for the bank resumed his concluding argument in opposition to the motion. He replied in detail to Samuel Untermyer, who made the closing argument for the government.

Before Mr. Bailey resumed however Samuel Untermyer for the treasury officials presented a bookkeeper's affidavit that there were 6000 transactions on the books of Lewis Johnson and company, bankrupt stock brokers, in the name of the Riggs bank and that checks were made sometimes in the name of the bank and at others in the name of H. H. Flather, one of its officials. He explained the affidavit as a reply to the contention that if there were any entries of stock selling on the books of Lewis Johnson and company showing the Riggs bank sold stocks they were fictitious.

"It is for your honor to determine whether the processes of this court have been abused," continued Mr. Untermyer.

Frank J. Hogan of counsel for the bank explained that the affidavit meant that the bank itself had not sold stocks short. "There was only one inference to be drawn and it was the inference I did draw," said Justice McCoy, namely that if there was any entry no matter whether the Riggs bank was the party of interest or not, showing that the Riggs bank sold stocks through Lewis Johnson and company, the bank did not know that such entries had been made."

The justice however, acquitted the attorney of any intention of deceiving the court. Mr. Bailey devoted his argument today to the discretion lodged with Comptroller Williams in calling for special reports. He argued that while the comptroller might demand information of existing loans he could not demand information of loans closed 15 years ago.

"That depends upon surrounding circumstances," suggested Justice McCoy.

GERMANS REPORT FIGHTING WITH COLORED TROOPS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, May 21.—Via London.—The following statement was given out at the war office today:

"Western theatre of war: 'North of Ypres colored French troops attacked our positions, east of the canal during the night. The battle continues.

"An attack by the British in the late evening south of Neuve Chapelle, in the region of La Quinque street, broke down under our fire. Northeast of Arras we shot down an enemy flying machine at Fresnoy.

"Eastern theatre of war: 'In the region of Shavli, there were only minor engagements. On the Dubusa, our attack east of Koldub reached Besigala and gave us another 1500 prisoners. East of Milosajic and Zemigola the Russians were driven back across the river. Further south the battle has come to a standstill. The remainder of the Russian forces which were defeated south of the Niemen are continuing their flight in the direction of Kovno.

"Southeastern theatre of war: 'Since the first of May 104,000 prisoners, 72 cannon and 253 machine guns have been captured by the army under General Mackensen and the other German troops fighting in the Austro-Hungarian army. These fighters are included in the total figures already published."

Eleven Jurors Were In Favor of Roosevelt But Twelfth Blocked Verdict

(Associated Press Telegram)
Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—After once reporting an illegal verdict to the court in favor of Theodore Roosevelt, the jury trying William Barnes' suit for libel, failed today, in more than three hours of additional deliberation to arrive at a verdict that was legal.

Shortly after 12:30 o'clock a recess was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon when the jury still considering the case in its room. A verdict if any is found, cannot be returned before the opening court this afternoon. Colonel Roosevelt declined to comment for publication upon the action of the jury. By the expression on his face, however, it was apparent that he was as pleased as he possibly could be. His counsel said their client was perfectly willing to divide the costs if there was any way in which it could be done. They made it plain in the presence of the defendant that a verdict was the thing desired regardless of costs.

Mr. Barnes was not present when the jury came in, having returned to his home in Albany last night.

When the jury trying to determine whether Theodore Roosevelt libeled William Barnes and if so what sum was commensurate with the damages sustained by the latter, was brought into the supreme court here today after being out for more than 15 hours, no verdict had been reached.

When the jury returned to the court house after having breakfast, it was immediately taken to the jury room and locked up. A half dozen deputy sheriffs sat on guard outside the door.

Before entering the courtroom the jury sent a note to Justice Andrews asking for a conference with him. Justice Andrews informed the 12 men they could ask any questions they desired in open court. The jury talked among themselves for a minute or so and then announced that they desired to return to their room for further deliberation.

The note the jury addressed to Justice Andrews was as follows:

CRIMINAL

ACTION BEGUN IN NEW YORK
AGAINST ARMOUR AND
SWIFT COMPANIES

For Failing to Mark Weight Upon Hams and Bacon That Were Wrapped.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Albany, N. Y., May 21.—Criminal action against Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., packers, has been instituted by Attorney General Woodbury to test the constitutionality of the state container law, it was announced today. It is alleged that the two packing companies failed to mark the weight upon hams and bacon that were wrapped. It also is charged that those meats were sold with the wrappers and that the purchaser paid for the wrapper the same price he paid for the meat.

Since the passage of the container law, the companies have contended that they were not required to stamp the weight upon meats that were wrapped.

India, China, Africa and South America.

"The expansion of German commerce in South America has been very large in recent years and its further extension by a dominant military empire would be carefully planned. Sooner or later its methods would bring it in conflict with the Monroe doctrine and further calamitous contests would ensue. Canada might then become the Belgium of the Western Hemisphere.

"If Great Britain and her allies succeed, the world will have to face the possibilities resulting from the growth and predominance of Russian autocracy, whose control by her people is still a dream of the future.

"If the issue be a stalemate, preparation for future wars will doubtless follow.

"Who will deny that the diplomacy of oligarchy has signally failed? But happily, as Emerson says: 'Rotation is nature's remedy—The soul is impatient of masters and eager for change.' Democracy is learning that war with enemies abroad is the means adopted by the enemies at home to stop the wheels of social progress."

Governor Baldwin said in part: "Occasions of war are avoided by giving such instruction in our schools and homes as will tend to inculcate respect for the rights of others, reverence for authority, and forms of custody in speech and demeanor.

"These doctrines are in large part what has kept China in existence so long. While desiring to keep apart from foreign intercourse, she has emphasized the importance of maintaining the amenities of intercourse in her domestic life."

Victims of Rheumatism

T. J. Evans' No-Cure No-Pay Offer Attracts Many Sufferers to Test Rheuma.

If Rheuma, the wonderful prescription for rheumatism sold by T. J. Evans and all druggists, does not cure any purchaser, the druggist will return your money without any red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease; because of its shifting nature it often strikes the heart and proves fatal. Any one with even a taint of rheumatism ought to drive it out as soon as possible.

Rheumatism is caused by sluggish, worn-out or over-worked kidneys, which become clogged and fail to eliminate the impurities from the system.

Rheuma acts promptly and directly upon the kidneys; it cleanses them; it absolutely renovates and leaves them in perfect condition, able to do the work nature intended they should do. 50 cents a bottle.

"A bitter word, from some one high in place, or perhaps a writer of literary eminence, which reflects on the course of a government or the character of its public men, often sinks deep, and poisons the sources of international good feeling.

ROCKEFELLER

hoped might facilitate the termination of the controversy.

Mr. Rockefeller then gave the "substance of every suggestion which we made to the Denver office during the strike." Quoting the letters and telegrams brought forth these suggestions.

The suggestions Mr. Rockefeller grouped under ten headings as follows:

That an investigation by three federal judges be invited; that provisions be made for injured employees and their families; that disinterested mediators be appointed to intervene; that the operators reiterate their acceptance of Governor Ammons' proposition of settlement; that a plan to get together be developed; that disputed points, other than union recognition, be submitted to a board to be appointed by the president of the United States; that a plan of publicity be developed; that a plan of organization to secure collective bargaining and opportunity for presenting employees' grievances be considered; suggestion in regard to President Wilson's plan of truce and that a plan of self-government for employees be considered.

Mr. Rockefeller denied the statement that "I knew on the admission of my agents in the field that the Colorado Fuel and Iron company controlled the prices and fixed the working conditions at the mines."

He said the wrong conclusion was drawn from a letter from Mr. Bowers to him in which Mr. Bowers referred to the prices or wages paid for men for mining coal and not to the prices at which the coal was sold. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company as the largest factor in the field, he said, was usually first in making changes in operating conditions, their lead being sometimes followed and sometimes disregarded.

Regarding statements that he and his associates participated in the prosecution of John R. Lawson, Mr. Rockefeller said:

"I desire to state unequivocally that neither I nor any of my associates has had any connection whatsoever with this case. I feel, and have so expressed myself very explicitly, that when private interests, either individual or corporate, participate in criminal prosecutions, the proceedings tend to lose that impartial quality which should characterize the administration of justice."

Mr. Rockefeller declared that when he learned that the trial was coming on he made careful inquiry "to assure myself that the Colorado Fuel and Iron company was not participating in any way in the prosecution," and that he was assured "that this was the fact and that no deviation from this policy would be permitted by the officers of the company in any prosecution."

"In reviewing recent events in Colorado," he continued, "while it is doubtless true that many of those who had a part in them would in the light of present knowledge, have acted differently in many respects, I can only say for myself that at each step I did what at the time seemed to me right and wise. As I see it, the vital questions now are these: Are conditions as they ought to be? If not, are sincere and effective efforts being put forth to make them better?"

Mr. Rockefeller then told of his intention to visit Colorado "as soon as it can be arranged, with due regard to other obligations," and said that in the meantime the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company are meeting with success in their efforts to improve conditions among employees. He told of his informal conference with labor men following the January hearings of the commission in New York and said he was glad to avail himself of the opportunity to get their view concerning the Colorado situation.

Mr. Rockefeller, resuming the witness stand today, read the following statement:

"Since giving my testimony yesterday, I have read with care the stenographer's transcript of the questions asked by the chairman of this commission in reference to the Lawson trial, and my view of certain hypothetical cases and the course I would take should the facts subsequently prove to be as presented.

"As these questions all relate to a criminal appeal at present pending before the courts of this country I feel that my position cannot be too precisely stated, both as respects the questions already asked and questions of a similar nature which may be addressed, and I, therefore, desire to give to this commission my opinion on these matters in the form of a written statement, which will be unambiguous and admit of no misunderstanding or misinterpretation.

"As already expressed, my opinion is that justice should be administered as to be above suspicion and if in any material particular the trial of Mr. Lawson has been wanting in this respect, I, for one, should desire to see the supreme court of Colorado, to which the appeal has been taken, grant

CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY

Sunday, May 30, will be one of the great days in the history of First Methodist Episcopal church. That day will mark the fourth anniversary of the dedication of the church and will be celebrated by a splendid program of church services. At the morning service Bishop William F. Anderson will preach the sermon and at the evening service the Rev. Luther Freeman, the popular pastor of the First M. E. church in Columbus, will preach.

Methodist men and women within the reach of Newark will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear two of the church's great men and to participate in celebrating the erection of a great house to the worship of God.

Justice Andrews was said to have contained this sentence:

"A peculiar situation has arisen upon which we request your advice in the jury room."

The jury came in shortly before 11 o'clock today and the foreman announced that the jury had agreed upon a verdict for the defendant. When the roll was called by the clerk of the court, eleven of the jurors said they were in favor of a verdict for the defendant, but the twelfth, Edward Burns, a Syracuse motorman, arose in his seat and said "I am for the plaintiff."

vere punishment. Then the jury was brought in and the foreman made his announcement. After Burns had desisted, Justice Andrews sent the jury back to its room.

Justice Andrews was informed by the foreman that the jury stood unanimous in favor of a verdict for the defendant in case the costs were suit between the plaintiff and defendant. The jury debated upon the question of costs when it returned to its room. It was said:

The jury was trying to decide the question of costs and that alone. It was apparent when the roll was called that some of the jurors were in favor of dividing the costs, which at the most it was said, amount to less than $1,500, while others were indifferent.

The law of libel provides that the loser in a contest must pay the costs of the action. Lawyers said there was no way in which the costs could be divided if a verdict was returned. In the event, it was said, of Juror Burns refusing to agree with his eleven companions the costs would be split.

That hookworm disease is responsible for lack of progress in many country schools, that it can be eradicated, and that the rural schools are now taking the lead in the movement to destroy this and other handicaps to good health, are some of the conclusions of Dr. John A. Ferrell.

The United States of America is by far the greatest steel producing country on earth. Germany comes next, with Great Britain third. The figures for 1910, the latest at hand for the moment, show this country to be equal in steel products to both Germany and the United Kingdom.

SOLDIERS WANT SPORT EXTRAS AND BASEBALLS

Chicago, May 21.—Famous ball players of the American League will be asked to autograph some of the baseballs which President Johnson will forward among other paraphernalia to the Canadian soldiers in France who want to while away the intermissions between battles in playing the American national game.

President Johnson said today the material he would provide will include in the first consignment five gross of balls, fifty bats, six masks and six catchers' protectors, while six sets of new uniforms will go later.

Reports reaching Chicago from France indicate that baseballs introduced among the French and British soldiers by Canadian troops who learned the game at home, is taking a firm foothold back of the trenches. The French are described as enthusiastic rooters.

Sporting extras with box scores are among the crying needs of the men in the European trenches, and the paper containing a description of the Johnson-Willard fight will meet a generous circulation, according to a letter received from George H. Rayner, former shortstop and third baseman of a Montana team in the International Baseball League, today.

Rayner is on the firing line near Ypres, with the first battalion of the Canadian expeditionary force.

"Roll up a few sporting extras and send them along," he wrote a friend. "If I get picked off before they come the other boys will be glad to get them. Just think, all the old diamond stars are at it again and I don't even know who or why."

"So old Jack Johnson finally met a big man and got licked? I was glad to hear of it, although I have not seen an account of it yet."

PLAYERS MAY BE FINED $5 TO $25; UMPS GET ORDERS

Akron, O., May 21.—President Al Lawson of the Buckeye league, gave the umpires of the circuit the following instructions before they departed for the cities where the opening games were staged:

A Buckeye league umpire must never forget that he is a gentleman, both on and off the ball field and that his position naturally requires him to be dignified and authoritative at all times. He should remember that familiarity breeds contempt and he should not at any time, either on or off the field, permit ball players or managers to speak to him familiarly or with any disrespect.

A Buckeye league umpire should not stop at the same hotels nor travel upon the same trains nor mix in any way, shape or manner with the ball players of the different clubs of this league.

From the time that the game is advertised to begin, the umpire becomes the autocrat of the playing field, and he should use his best efforts to keep order on the field and make the game fast and interesting. He should make the players run in and out from their various positions whenever the sides are retired, and he should allow no one to prolong the game with useless arguments. He should also set the example himself by always being punctual and active while performing his duties. He should report at the baseball grounds at least one-half hour before the game starts.

The Buckeye league will not tolerate any rowdiness of any sort by either the players or managers, or any of its teams, and the umpire should see that this rule is strictly enforced and in all cases should report any rowdy tactics which may have been perpetrated by said players or managers immediately after the game to the president of the league. The umpires of the Buckeye league have the right and power to fine any player for refractory conduct during the game, such fines, however, must not be less than $5 nor more than $25. The umpire also has the right to put any player out of the game at his discretion and have him ejected from the grounds and park if he sees fit.

Any club has a right to protest a game for any reason that their field captain may see fit, but the umpire must remember that protesting a game does not necessarily mean that he is in the wrong nor that the league directors will substantiate the protest. Any club, however, that makes such protest must also file their complaints with the president of the league within two days after the game and the umpire must also send in the protest, together with a report on the conditions which brought said protest about.

SPEEDWAY IS IN GOOD SHAPE; TRIALS TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—The condition of the Indianapolis motor speedway, where the fifth annual 500-mile automobile race will be run, May 29, is the best it ever has been, according to a party of officials who yesterday inspected the course. A. F. Pardington, referee, Tom Hoy, starter and other officials who looked over the track were particularly impressed, they said, with the retaining walls, which recently were built on the inside of all the turns. These walls are designed to prevent accidents such as the one last year in which Joe Dawson's back was broken when his car left the track and turned over in the sand. The first of the elimination trials which were postponed yesterday because of the rain are to be held today.

Philadelphia's Brilliant Young Shortstop.

Bancroft, Star of Phillies.

Pat Moran's young shortstop, Bancroft, partly accounts for the success of the new manager has had with the National League Club of Philadelphia. Bancroft is now nearly one of the stars of the game, and it is predicted by eminent baseball authorities that within this season he will be recognized as one of the great players. When Moran took the club after it had been shot to pieces by desertions to the Federal League there was little hope for him. But he has shown his ability and his nerve by bringing the club up to the leadership of his league.

Bancroft has made more runs than any other member of the club, despite the fact that he had only batted 243 when the last averages were compiled. But old baseball men think that this batting will improve.

NEWSOCKS OFF TO MARION FOR OPENING THERE

Tener appointed Wagner a member of the commission. Shortly before Governor Tener's term expired the shortstop's name was again sent to the state senate for confirmation but upon orders of Governor Drumbaugh, the nomination was held up and yesterday it was withdrawn. The office paid no salary.

Expected to Pull 500-Mile Victory for Stutz

JOHNNY AITKEN

When the question of relief driver and pit manager for the Stutz team in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race came up for consideration, there was only one answer, Johnny Aitken. Aitken has coached two previous 500-mile winners, Dawson and Goux, and is expected this year to pull a third.

ANNUAL MEET OF THE NEWARK DRIVING CLUB

Elegant Banquet Enjoyed by Members of a "Live Wire" Association at Assembly Hall.

Enthusiasm ran high last night at the annual meeting of the Newark Driving Association, held in the Assembly Hall. Owing to the inclement weather only about 50 were in attendance. Several from out of the city attended, and about 20 new members were admitted.

After the business meeting was over a social session was held and some lively time was had, some of the older members going at a two-four gait, but at that they had to go some to keep away from the youngsters.

It is not necessary to state they did not have to be led to the "feed" and none stood hitched very tight when the very sumptuous banquet was spread.

All the old officers were re-elected to fill another year's term as follows:

President—O. G. Warrington.
Vice President—Wilford Jones.
Secy. and Treas.—Fred Kirkpatrick.

Executive Committee—Val Kellar, J. M. Lake and C. D. Lake.

It was decided to hold the first matinee meeting on Thursday afternoon, May 27, at 2:30 o'clock. A new class was established to be known as Class "D," this is for colts, as it is known that in and around Newark there are a number of "youngsters" that will make a great showing, if properly "placed," so this new class will give owners a chance to find out just what they have in the way of "hoss flesh."

Oxley Bros. of Newark, have donated a series of fine silk ribbon rosettes in three colors, Blue, Red and White, these will be given on matinee dates when no prizes are hung up, and from the sample shown last night, these are well worth contending for. It is needless to say that the firm received a rousing vote of thanks.

A campaign is to be made for new members, both active and social.

The Driving Association extends a hearty invitation to all to attend their weekly affairs, and a good time is assured.

Among those present last night were O. G. Warrington, Wilford Jones, Fred Kirkpatrick, Val Kellar, J. M. Lake, C. D. Lake, C. V. Kellar, Walter Kellar, Paul Wareham, Grant Huffman, J. W. Farmer, M. J. Reese, Oliver Seffel, Frank Laughman, Jud Lewis, Claude Horner, Jno. Allen, Dr. F. E. Corwell, Harry Lippincott, P. Denelsbeck, M. Melnick, Art. Brookes, D. Colville, N. E. Vanatta, Del. Preston, Chas. Boggs, C. J. Horner, Curtis Rowe, Jim Clemens, Ben. B. Jones, E. V. Maxley, W. C. Witty, C. McWilliams, L. D. Corbett, Fred Seigle, Harry Berkham and O. S. Jones of Granville, L. C. Wright and Hy. Hankinson of Vanatta, Furber Brothers of Weish Hills, W. R. Sage of Oberlin, O.

FIRST APPEARANCE OF FINNS HERE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

When Newark finishes the Saturday game at Marion the club will return to Newark for the two-game series with Philadelphia, which opens Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Whelan Park. Unless the rain continues the grounds will be in prime condition. Rain has been needed badly at the park and Groundkeeper Jack Lake was particularly glad to see the downpour of the last few days. It was agreeable also to the groundkeeper that the soft ground was not broken up by players' feet. It will be all the better not having been disturbed.

BIRMINGHAM NO LONGER MANAGER CLEVELAND CLUB

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, May 21.—Joe Birmingham resigned as manager of the Cleveland American league baseball team today. According to announcement made by President Charles W. Somers, Birmingham's resignation was requested. No successor has been named. Birmingham succeeded Harry Davis as manager in 1912. He had played in a Cleveland uniform as an outfielder since 1906. Poor showing of the team last year and so far this season led to his retirement.

WHY IS TRAPSHOOTING?

The Reason For a Shot Gun Is the Answer.

A Yankee answer to the question "Why is trapshooting?" is "Why is a shotgun?"

Answer the second question and you will have answered the first. The answer to both is that the average American likes to do a thing himself rather than simply watch others do it, and he loves a gun.

There are millions of shotguns owned in the United States. Could there be better proof of the American liking for this type of firearm? Estimates vary as to the number of trapshooters in the country, but putting it conservatively there are fully 500,000. Here is evidence that Americans like to "play" as well as watch their favorite games.

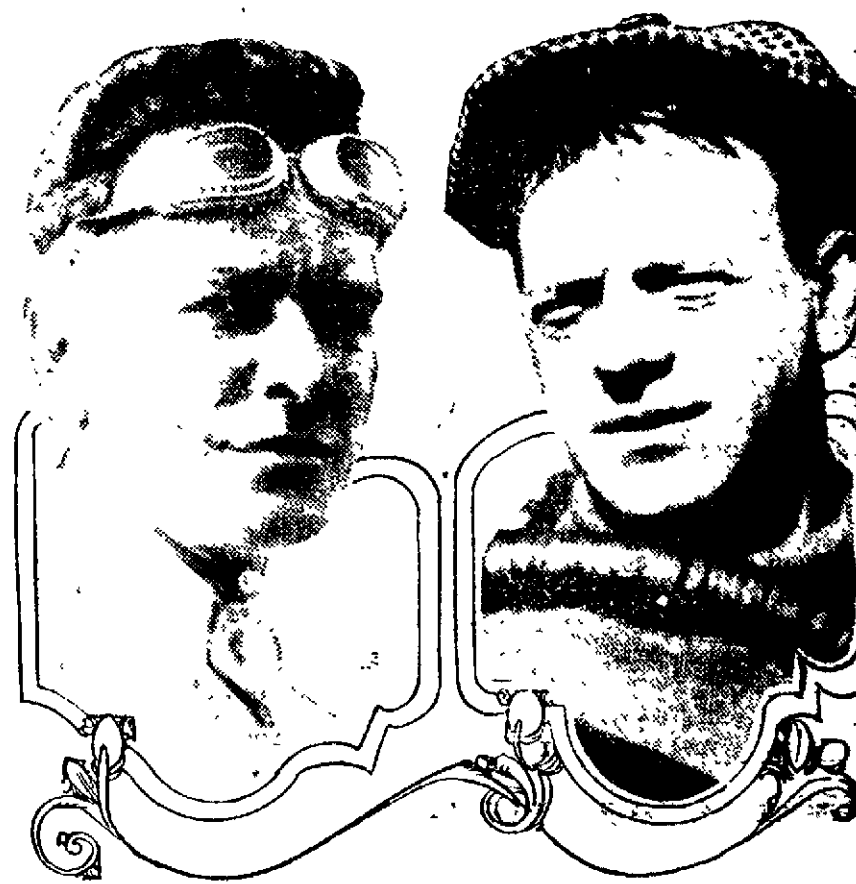

During 1914 more than 1100 new trapshooting clubs were organized and the average increase in membership of old clubs was more than 50 per cent. This year promises to beat last year's record.

To what proportions the clay bird game will eventually grow it is impossible to predict, but that it bids fair to outdistance every other form of outdoor recreation is a forecast that has strong evidence to back it.

Recent sales of the United States government totaling 125,000,000 feet of saw timber in the Olympic national forest in western Washington, mark the opening of this hitherto inaccessible storehouse of timber, estimated to contain a stand of 35,000,000,000 feet.

Notwithstanding the great amount of timber on the Pacific coast, there is a very meager supply of hard wood, and much of the oak made use of in the western part of this country is imported from the eastern countries of Asia.

GALVIN

BABCOCK

A desperate attempt to fill the shoes of Arthur Dury, runner-up in the last Indianapolis 500-mile race, will be made during the next Hoosier contest by Frank Galvin and George Babcock, at the wheel of exact duplicates of Dury's car. Known as "babies," because of their small size, these machines are about as fast as anything on wheels, and, if properly handled, are considered sure of a slice in the prize money, if not the big pot itself. Everything is up to Babcock and Galvin.

It is hoped that none of our Sunday school excursion steamers will cross the ocean and attack the submarines and thereby bring on war.

In Case of War.

The chances that the United States will become involved in the war may not be large. But until that conflict is ended, no American can feel safe.

If Germany should declare war against the United States, the fighting could reach our shores only in case the Teutonic allies should largely overpower their adversaries. This may be unlikely, but every possible contingency should be faced.

The United States has plenty of available material with which to make war. The problem of organizing that material would tax the biggest intellect in the nation. The government at Washington in time of peace under all administrations is conducted by the class of men called politicians, rather than by business men. In case of a sudden outbreak of war, the politicians high and low of every party feel their limitations.

They ought to expect to call to their aid a sufficient force of the most patriotic business executives. Of course army and navy methods have been vastly improved since the confusion of the Spanish war. But the country is so far unprepared that the problem of developing military resources would be beyond the powers of any group of men that ever gathers at Washington.

In case of war there would be plenty of enlistments. While the average citizen shivers at the thought of enlisting, there is plenty of young blood hot for battle. Every hint and threat of war always stimulates enlistments. The country has no aviation force worth speaking of, but it has a host of amusement

Shifting Population.

For more than a century a careful calculation has been made every ten years to fix the exact center of population. When the census was taken in 1790 the center of population was found to be near Annapolis, Md., well east of Chesapeake bay. A decade later the center had moved to a point just above the city of Washington. Throughout the history of the country the population center has moved steadily westward at the rate of about 100 miles every ten years. The center of population of our 100,000,000 lies in Illinois near its western boundary. In another decade it will probably cross the Mississippi river.—Christian Herald.

Wilson Understands.

President Wilson is building well on the altruism of recent American diplomacy. America, he said in his New York speech, asks nothing for itself except what is a right to ask for humanity. "We want no nation's property. We question no nation's honor. We stand for what every nation should wish to stand for, and speak for those things which all humanity must desire."

That is putting our national task and destiny on the highest possible plane. It is a clarion call to which every genuine American can respond and it is a declaration which honest men everywhere must respect.

One is bound to feel, as he reflects on these words, that if Europe is cursed with militarism, America is blessed with a spirit of humanity as luminous as the sun. In the councils of men, there has probably never been a greater contrast of motives. Which of them is to be dominant in the world of tomorrow?—Columbus Dispatch.

British Cabinet Changes.

Even if the reconstruction of the cabinet should take place by means of a coalition, no disorganization of the ministerial machine will be apparent, much less felt. All that will happen will be that certain ministers, for patriotic reasons, will resign their seats; and that certain members of the opposition and labor parties, for equally patriotic reasons, will take their places. There will be, by this means, a drawing together of both sides of the House of Commons as naturally, with Mr. Balfour and Mr. Asquith, Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law sitting together in the same ministry, criticism will be reduced to a minimum. The attempt to manufacture a tremendous sensational situation out of what is occurring is simply ridiculous.—Christian Science Monitor.

Taft Trusts Wilson.

Had Mr. Taft been a member of the Wilson Cabinet, he could not have supported the President more heartily, or shown greater confidence in him. Fortunately the support is due, and the confidence deserved. The country, therefore, is to be doubly congratulated. For in Mr. Wilson it has precisely the sort of President that it should have at such a time as this, and in Mr. Taft it has an ex-President who has fairly earned their gratitude and respect by his wise and patriotic words in these critical days. Both men are bravely and conscientiously performing the duties that their positions impose on them. A nation, like a man, ought to be able to feel a sense of outrage and anger without at once rushing to arms. The war now raging in Europe ought surely to have taught us that lesson—as we believe it has.—Indianapolis News.

Pleasing Prospects.

When it was announced a few weeks ago that the Pennsylvania Railroad would spend $20,000,000 for equipment the facts did not fully justify it. The immediate orders amounted to but $6,000,000 and the other $14,000,000 was to be spent if the encouraging prospects continued. Evidently they have continued, and probably have expanded, for the company has now given orders that aggregate $16,000,000, with the explanation that the other $4,000,000 will be spent by it in its shops at Altoona. The company feels justified now in undertaking the full program, which was only put forward tentatively a few weeks ago.—Philadelphia Record.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

A SOUTHERNER'S MEMORIAL DAY SENTIMENT.

Mar 30 has been set aside by northern states as Memorial day. Everywhere that a Federal soldier is buried his last resting place is made beautiful on this date by loyal hands and loving hearts. The soldier's body for the time being rests under mounds of buds and blossoms, while the flag for which he fought—our flag—flutters at half staff above his tomb. In many places on Memorial day the graves of Confederate soldiers are strewn with flowers by northern men and women who have forgotten the hatreds of war and the rancors of reconstruction. There can be no true American who does not welcome these signs of peace and friendship. Orators may prate in national gatherings and tell in spread eagle metaphors of the greatness and goodness of the new unification, but all their eloquence fails to impress the southern heart with the sincerity of some northern community when it places above the grave of a Confederate soldier its simple tribute—a bunch of blossoms of the spring. Here is the act without hope of reward, the act that has no motive hidden in its doing—an act of friendship, an act of fraternity and the action of hearts that are large enough to realize that the dead Confederate soldiers were Americans and their bravery was but the reflex of the nation.—Augusta (Ga.) Herald.

APPRECIATION.

It's good to have some tell disease the rheumatism in your knees, or boils upon your neck; it's good to suffer now and then, from spavin, burdon, boll or wen, and be a tota' wreck; for when you have your health once more, you're twice as happy as before the punk diseases came; you are in shape to realize the luck you're in, when anguish dies, and you're a painless frame. The delegate who's never ill, who never needs the druggist's pill, or hears the doctor's ring, can't realize how he is blest; in perfect health he finds no zest, it's such a common thing. Then rheumatism hits his bones, and miles away you hear his groans, as he anoints his legs, and rends his garb, and tears his hair, and bits large pieces from his chair, and for the saw-bones begs. Then he begins to understand that health's a blessing great and grand that every man should prize. "If I get well instead of worse, and all my agonies disperse, I will reform," he cries. "I will not howl unless I'm hurt, I will not rail and rend my shirt, or of afflictions bawl; for if a man is feeling well, he has no right to raise a yell, whatever woe befall."

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podosphylin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Sentalen Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Sentalen Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Call to Prayer Issued by Bishop, To be Read In Methodist Churches, For Divine Interposition In Great War

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, D. C., May 21.—In behalf of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington, has made public a special "Call to Prayer," appointed to be read in all the Methodist churches.

"Not once a day only, nor merely when convenient, but in our every thought of God . . . let the cry of our hearts incessantly ascend for the peace of Europe and the world," says the appeal.

The text of the call is as follows:

"In the divine ordering of events it has been given to American Methodism to develop and occupy the world-parish claimed by the daring faith of John Wesley when Methodists were a despised people. The Methodist Episcopal church, now firmly planted on every continent of the globe, must therefore recognize at this crucial period in human affairs her honorable and responsible relation to all races and conditions of mankind. The tenure of her own spiritual life and leadership is at stake in her attitude toward this sacred obligation. From the beginning Methodism has conceived of the kingdom of God as a universal brotherhood founded in the spirit and teachings of Jesus Christ, with God as One Father, Love as the supreme law, and all people and peoples eligible on equal terms to all its benefits for time and eternity. Whatever obscures this vision of the kingdom of God bars the way to its glorious realization. The prayer, 'Thy Kingdom Come,' has therefore ever been the first petition on all human tongues consecrated by the hallowing of the Father's name. But now, to the horror of angels and men, the vision is for the time lost by one continent that has been beyond all others sanctified by the blood of Christian martyrs, and the voice of God silenced in the councils of the embittered nations. Europe is engulfed in unutterable woe and the world is filled with an agony of dread. Christian soldiers are daily passing in multitudes to judgment with the blood of fellow Christians on their hands. On every wind the wails of widowed mothers and orphaned children are mingled with the groans of mangled and dying men.

"Under such conditions our chief pastors can be no longer silent, nor can they meet their duty by a perfunctory exhortation to formal prayers for divine interposition. Not until we realize that, beneath all that appears, this war with its awful carnage is but a struggle for commercial supremacy, can we understand how alien to hereditary dynasties is the thought of the universal brotherhood of man. Every tradition and every instinct of imperialism is in constant friction with the rule of Christ. The jealousies and hatreds of kings and peoples are not born in heaven. Let victory rest where it may after millions of brave hearts have ceased to beat, the vassalage of human souls to material wealth, wealth and power will remain the sure harbinger of other wars, of increasing deadliness as suburban science adds to the machinery of destruction, unless God shall militantly intervene by unseen forces, whose strategies we may not discern but whose existence and efficiency we dare not doubt. What we do know is that willing, loving, obedient hearts are the conductors of these divine forces in human affairs. There are enough praying souls in America to call down a truce on every battle front if once they felt the agony of Christ's intercession. That our country is as yet free from the madness of strife—should the more move us to importunate and increasing petition that God will make His voice to be everywhere heard again on land and sea. Only thus at such time can we witness our faith in God and our love for men. Only thus can we restrain among our own people the latent spirit of war that is already conjuring every untoward incident abroad into an intended insult to our flag. Only thus can we subdue the rising resentment of our own hearts against unjust foreign criticism of our nation at this crisis in its history. So the spirit of our Lord pleads with us by every consideration of peace at home, as well as of humanity the world over, to follow Him into Gethsemane of prevailing prayer. Somewhere the song of the angelic host must still be heard. Somewhere the sun of peace must continue to shine, while Europe is in eclipse. From somewhere must blow the kindly currents that shall cool the fever of hate and revenge that is consuming our brothers beyond the sea. Therefore, our chief pastors have commissioned me as their voice of the church, to call every member of our communion to sympathetic fellowship with the Saviour of men, in His unceasing intercessions with the Father in behalf of His erring children, and in the soothing of the angered hearts of men into patience and compassion toward all their neighbors, to the end that the rulers and peoples now at war may cease to kill, and learn to love as children of the One Father in Heaven.

"Not once a day only, nor merely when convenient, but in our every thought of God, in every pang that comes with tidings of fresh horrors, in every secret prayer for self and home and country, as well as in every public service, every session of Sunday school and Epworth League alone or in companies, let the cry of our hearts incessantly ascend for the peace of Europe and the world. Let prayer be added to prayer and petitions be multiplied, until their volume of faith and fervor mingling with like incense rising from the altars of all the churches, shall fill the sky, and charge all the overhanging atmosphere with love and peace and good will, to be wafted by the compassionate currents that flow ever from God's loving heart, to the healing of the deadly hurts of His people. Let us teach the little children to pray for God's other little ones left fatherless, and many of the homeless. Surely there are woes enough to draw hot tears from every eye and outbreathing prayer from the dumbest soul.

"Yes, yes, overlay the land with the blessed calm that prayer alone can bring. We want not preparedness for war, but preparedness for God and His peace, for the sheltering of our nation. We have a Christian president and about him in council are men who pray. Let our united faith also support their constant appeal to God for patience and poise and wisdom amid the storm of conflicting advice by which they are beset. Their only refuge, our only refuge, Europe's only hope and humanity's only hope, is in God. Therefore, pray, pray, pray without ceasing!

"From the answering heavens already comes the voice: God will shine forth triumphantly. God will walk in glory upon the fields plowed by the shells of battle, sown with the bodies of the dead, and watered by the blood of those gone forth. And the harvest will be God established in the hearts of living men. Not since the time of martyrs has there been such faith as will be Amen! In behalf of the bishops, EARL CRANSTON.

A MESSAGE TO THIN, WEAK, SCRAWNY, FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 20 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Evans drug store and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

ABE MARTIN

PALE BEAUTY FADES

The girl who comes home from school or shop tired out every day may be beautiful but she will soon fade. She will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown because the ease with which she tires is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning of the blood that cannot be disregarded.

Thin blood may give an attractive pallor for a short time but soon the patient becomes thin, flat-chested, haggard and angular. The only beauty that endures is that of rich, red blood shining through a transparent skin.

Almost any girl can build up her blood by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are useful to growing girls, to pale girls, thin girls and those who get tired or out of breath easily. Mothers of such girls should see to it that the tendency to anemia is checked by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills before the trouble becomes chronic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will build up the blood if anything will. They are free from opiates or harmful drugs and can be taken with perfect safety by anyone. Your own druggist sells them so you can begin the treatment at once. A helpful booklet, "Building Up the Blood" will be sent you free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

It's been many a day since anyone dropped out o' th' limelight with such velocity as Jess Willard. Some fellows won't even lend an ear without se curity.

ITALY WARNS AUSTRIA; THE FINAL BREAK

REPUDIATION OF TREATY WITH DUAL MONARCHY CAME ON MAY 21ST

Reasons Given that Guarantees of Concessions Were Not Satisfactory of Italian Government.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, May 21.—A Havas dispatch from Rome says:

"The final document in the Green Book issued by the Italian government is the note sent by Foreign Minister Sonnino to the Duke of Avarna, Italian ambassador at Vienna, annulling the triple alliance. The note, which was communicated to Baron Burián, Austrian foreign minister on May 4, closes with the following statement:

"All efforts of the Italian government encounter the resistance of the imperial Austrian government, which after several months, decides to concede only the special interests of Italy in Avlona and to promise insufficient concession of territory in Trent—a concession which admits of no normal solution of the situation from an ethical, political or military point of view. This concession moreover, would not be accomplished except at an undetermined period; that is to say, only at the end of the war.

"In view of this condition of affairs the Italian government must renounce the hope of reaching an agreement and sees itself constrained to withdraw all propositions of settlement. It is equally useless to give a formal appearance to an alliance which would be destined only to disseminate a reality of continued mistrust and daily disagreements. That is why Italy, confident in its right, affirms and proclaims it will resume from now on its entire liberty of action and declares null and hereafter without effect, its treaty with Austria-Hungary."

GERMANY TRIED TO PATCH DIFFERENCES
BUT WITHOUT AVAIL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Amsterdam, Via London, May 21.—It became increasingly clear after the death of Marquis San Giuliano, says the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin in giving a history of the negotiations with Italy, that strong forces were at work in Rome to wring special advantages from Austria-Hungary in exchange for the maintenance of neutrality by Italy. Germany, therefore, made every effort to bring about a friendly agreement between the two countries, but from the beginning negotiations were made difficult because Italy insisted territorial concessions should take effect immediately.

Italy first made known her demands on April 11. They included the absolute renunciation by Austria of Trent, including the German town of Bozen; a readjustment of the frontier along the Isonzo river; the inclusion of Trieste in a new independent state, and the cession of the Curzolari archipelago together with recognition of her supreme interests in Albania. In return, Italy is said to have offered a lump sum of $40,000,000 for debt redemption and agreed to remain neutral as long as this war lasted.

Germany did its utmost to induce Italy to moderate its claim as it believed the unconditional acceptance of them would have affronted seriously the interests and dignity of Austria. While negotiations still were pending, however, the Italian ambassador at Vienna presented on May 4 an unexpected declaration that Italy regarded the triple alliance as having been broken by Austria's proceedings against Serbia in August. The ambassador declared he had been instructed to withdraw all offers made by his government. With regard to Germany, the Italian government confined itself to bringing to the knowledge of Berlin the declaration presented at Vienna on May 4.

PITTSBURGH ITALIANS
PREPARING TO RETURN IN CASE THERE IS WAR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 21.—Eight thousand Italians in Pittsburgh and vicinity are prepared to return to their homes to join the colors in the event of a declaration of war between Italy and Austria, according to estimates made today by Italian leaders here. Joseph Natoli, Italian consul in Pittsburgh said no official communication, however, had been received concerning a call for reservists so far. He said there were about 5,000 reservists in Allegheny county alone.

LARGE ORDERS FOR MILITARY STORES
GIVEN IN AMERICA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, May 21.—Large orders

for military stores and foodstuffs for Italy were reported to be in the market here today despite the fact that for months the Italian government has been drawing supplies from the United States in anticipation of hostilities. Shipments of coal and wheat from this country to Italy in the last few weeks have been extensive, it is said. Many shiploads of horses for use of the Italian army were reported to have been made and an order for 50,000 more horses is understood to be awaiting acceptance.

Many of the Italian reservists in this city returned to Italy in the early stages of the European war and a rush by New York Italians to return to Italy and enlist for the war is not anticipated among leading Italians.

MAY NOT ISSUE A
CALL TO ITALIANS
IN UNITED STATES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, May 21.—Italians in the United States probably will not be called back to the colors unless the European war is to continue for another year. Italian officials here believe Italy has sufficient men in her home army to maintain a vigorous offensive against Austria.

The possibility that Italy's entrance in the war may compel peace in another six months is suggested in Italian quarters here as a reason for withholding any call for reservists resident in foreign countries until necessity for them shall become apparent through the development of military operations.

ITALY'S ACT CALLED TREACHERY BY SOME GERMAN NEWSPAPERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Berlin, Via London, May 21.—The morning papers publish long reports of the meeting yesterday of the Italian chamber of deputies. Few make editorial comment, but those which discuss the situation take a resolute but unexcited attitude. The most prominent feeling expressed is revulsion at what is regarded as Italy's treachery in turning on a former ally.

"The last attempt to prevent our former ally," says the newspaper, "from joining our enemies was made on May 10 by considerably extended promises on the part of Austria-Hungary, which the imperial chancellor read in the reichstag on the 18th. After the presentation of these negotiations, no Green Book can alter the fact that if Italy takes up arms against her previous allies, she will be guilty of a breach of faith and trust and will be acting in order to gain power which was offered the Italian people with all possible guarantees, voluntarily, without bloodshed."

THE USE OF SOAP
SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Your Boys and Girls

If he is in good condition, the bottled baby, who is up to the proper standard of weight and general health, at nine months he may be fed some foods, like cereal, or his modified milk, and even beef broth from a cup along with half a bottle. At a year, such a feeding is substituted for the usual bottle feeding.

At fifteen months he has three bottle feedings and two cup feedings. At sixteen months he has three meals a day and a bottle at nine or ten. At eighteen or twenty months no bottle is given at night. The weaning is accomplished.

Babies begin teething at different times. Sometimes delayed teething is a family trait. More often it is due to ill-health, malnutrition, rickets, or other constitutional diseases. The breast-fed child teeths earlier and more easily than a bottle-fed baby, and usually exhibits its two lower middle teeth at six months.

W. L. A. SELLERS WRITES LETTER ABOUT FLORIDA

(By W. L. A. Sellers.)

Tampa, Fla., May 12.—It has been my intention for some time to write to our friends and acquaintances something of our stay in Florida, but the longer I put it off the more difficult it becomes.

I used to wonder why people who had spent some time here, could not describe more clearly just how things appeared—but now I know. I have read different articles (and I dare say some of you who will read this have read them too) in these columns from persons who have spent some time in Florida, that differ so widely that it would be difficult indeed for one who has never seen Florida, to form an opinion of the country. One writes of the beautiful sunshine and roses and fine fruits and vegetables; the other of the sand and swamps and mosquitoes.

I have not entered the real estate business yet, so it shall be my purpose to tell something of both the pleasant and the unpleasant features and conditions, or, at least as much as I am able to in the short length of time we have been here. Let me say right here that Florida is not all sunshine and roses, as some would have you believe. It is estimated that 95 percent of Florida land is yet unimproved, and except that most of the best timber has been taken off, it remains much the same as it has been for years. I learn that there are acres and acres of virgin pine forests yet remaining, and wild game such as deer and bear, etc., still abound.

We arrived here on Monday evening and the next Monday morning I went to work consequently I have not had much chance to see the country. The land is generally level, and the unimproved land presents rather a monotonous appearance, as the trees are nearly all pine trees, which grow very uniform in shape. The low Palmetto and other scrubby bushes are plentiful. A great many lakes are found, and of various sizes. The main roads are of either rock or shell and make an excellent road, and they are getting a great many of them. These roads are not to go through this unimproved territory and are considered quite an advantage to the property along such a road.

The soil is in streaks—so much so, that a man can step at one step off of good land onto poor land. This is the reason so many northern people have been swindled by buying land sight unseen. In fact, a person can get "stung" right here with eyes wide open, unless he has learned to judge the soil himself, or have some one who can. Lots of this rough land is good grazing land and men are paying more attention to cattle raising, and I feel quite certain that in the next few years almost every acre of land in the state will be worth a great deal more—possibly double.

Almost surrounded by the undeveloped land may occasionally be seen a very pretty place with a beautiful citrus grove or truck farm, indicating that this man knew the soil and picked out his little 5, 10 or 20 acre spot and is possibly making some money.

In the city we find more of a variety of trees. Some pine, palms, chinaberry, magnolia, live oak and water oak, pecan and citrus trees, etc., and occasionally a sycamore, which is the most naturally looking tree we see. The oak trees are the best for shade and compare with the elm trees in the north, as they grow large and spread out very wide. Most of these trees do not shed their leaves all at once, but the new leaves come out and gradually crowd the old ones off and you hardly know the change has been made. When we came here, and all through the winter we could see trees that were green and by the side of a road would be one that was shedding, or possibly had shed all of its leaves, then one that had shed began to come out in its new coat. So you can see there is a constant transformation that is very hard to describe. Everything now is out in its best green suit and surely it is beautiful. No more so than Ohio is in the spring, but they last so much longer, and when everything is dead there we will still have things green.

In December and January the Poinsettias and other flowers were blooming, some roses too. There are some flowers blooming all the time. Vegetables were seen growing, and were on the market when we came in December, and have gradually increased until now they are very plentiful.

It does not seem so strange now, but to see all these things through the winter months is quite a treat to one who has never had that pleasure. The thing that will probably stay with us the longest, was the first sight of a real orange grove, which we first sighted about 100 miles south of Jacksonville, on our road to Tampa. The pictures you see of oranges growing do not do them justice. The foliage of an orange tree is of as rich a green as nature or man could ever make, and the rich yellow of the ripe fruit hanging among the green is, surely a beautiful thing, and when you see acres of such trees set in perfectly straight rows it is even more beautiful than I can describe. There are still some oranges on the trees, and at the same time small green oranges and blossoms, three stages appearing at the same time. You have never eaten a real orange unless you pulled it from the tree.

Apples and oranges are just the reverse here. You buy oranges by the measure and apples by the dozen. We have some sitting on the table now that Mrs. Sellers paid 15c per dozen for, and they are very small ones, too. We have been able at times to buy nice grape fruit for a penny apiece, and most anytime for a "jitney."

Great quantities of grape fruit and oranges have gone to waste here this spring.

Tampa differs somewhat from northern cities, in a few respects, but, generally speaking, it is similar. It has a mayor and other officials that most every one criticizes, (and I am sorry to say that a great deal of it is due them.) The street cars run in the middle of the streets; a policeman may be found occasionally on quiet streets, and the big "graft" machine is running, etc.

Regardless of these drawbacks, civic pride has done and is still doing lots for Tampa. Everybody is a booster. There is lots of hustle, lots of get there push.

There are still a great many evidences of the old town it used to be, but now and strictly modern buildings are replacing the old ones, and to me seems every evidence of a greater Tampa. It now reaches nearly 75,000 people, and not many years hence will see 100,000. There is a great deal of paved streets and more going down in various parts of the city. The pavements are very essential here, for where there is no pavement it is sand and makes very hard driving for either horse or auto. There are three or four residential sections that are beautiful. The people who have some money and own their homes have very pretty lawns and shrubbery but the poorer and poorer classes don't put much effort and expense necessary for nice lawns. It requires quite a little cost and work to get and keep a lawn here. The climate is very hard on paint and a great many houses among the medium class and almost all among the poor class show up badly. So many houses look like they were just staying there temporarily.

Tampa is the greatest place to study human nature I ever saw. There are people here from every state in the union, and from every country on the globe it seems—Spanish, Cubans, Greeks, Italians, Germans, English, Danish and some Mexicans. Not many of the Roumanians, etc., as there are in Newark.

The most are Spanish and Cubans. They are brought and kept here by the cigar factories. The Spanish are making good and highly respected citizens, and are some of the moneyed people. Many of them own fine homes among the Americans, and even intermarry. At first we thought we could never get used to so many foreigners, but as time goes on we notice them less. There are two sections of the city that are made up almost altogether of the poorer class of foreigners so that if you keep out of these sections they need not bother you much.

These foreigners as a rule are well-behaved and cause very little trouble. The colored people cause more trouble for the policemen than any others. They surely are thick here. Generally speaking, and considering what a mixture of humanity there is here, it is a very orderly place.

There are something near three hundred cigar factories here, and when they are working full, have a weekly output of 10,000,000 cigars, and it seems like they try to smoke them all here at home. Never saw so much smoking. They do refrain from it while in church, but that is about all. They sit anywhere on the street car and smoke, clerks smoke in the stores except when waiting on a customer. In fact, there seems to be no rules against it.

I think Tampa has agreed to take the output of all the automobile factories, judging from the number of them here, and so many of them are large new ones this spring. They have one good ordinance though, and one that should be practiced in every city, and that is, they are not allowed to run past a street car while the car is stopped for loading or unloading passengers. Besides all these automobiles there are hundreds of Fords. I dare say that if you were to come south you would find the cities far more progressed and up-to-date than you would expect. At least it was that way with me. I feel that there is a great future for the state. It is remarkable how many people from the north are settling here and building nice homes.

Well, I have left the weather and climate till the last. Not that it plays no part in things here, however, for it does. While we have seen the worst winter that Florida has ever seen, it was so far ahead of anything we had ever seen that we feel very slow to find fault. The citizens here were continually apologizing for the bad weather and saying this is not Florida weather. There was a very unusual amount of rain, and through the winter months it meant cool weather. But there was no danger of it turning to snow or freezing on the streets making it icy. No slush to wade, no mud to clean off your shoes. Two shines a week would keep you looking fine. Go out right after a hard rain and every thing would be dry. Anyone though that says you don't feel any cold in Florida, I want to call him a "mistaken individual," for you do. There is always a breeze, if not a wind, blowing, and being so close to the water it naturally is damp, and chills one to the bone. Of course there is no danger of frozen fingers or ears, but you shiver all right. The temperature did not go below 10 and some days went up as high as 70 to 80. It keeps a person changing clothes pretty much. Some days we would be dressed almost as heavy as we did in Ohio, and other days as light as in summer. Christmas day we dressed in our summer clothes and took our dinner to one of the parks and ate it. This was a new thing for us.

It was only on cloudy days that we felt the cold, for when ever Old Sol got a chance to shine he warmed up. The people here are not fixed for cold weather. The houses are not built for it, and they don't have the preparation for heat they should have. Usually all they have is a small wood stove, or a small oil heater. The store I am working in has no heat at all, except a small gas heater in the office, and it was at the store that I felt the cold most. The cars are all open and very uncomfortable when it was down to about 16 degrees. This cool, changeable weather lasted until Easter.

It was amusing to see the way people differ in regard to the weather. You could see men going without coat or vest and possibly wearing a straw hat, and others with overcoats and collars turned up. Some of the ladies could be seen wearing low shoes and "cheese cloth" waists, and other bundled up in their furs.

Easter Sunday was as clear as a bell, but rather a cold wind, but each day following remained clear and a little warmer and has continued since. We have had some days as hot as 92 to 95 in the shade, but not unpleasant for there is that ever present salt water breeze that is delightful, and if what we have had is a sample of the summers here, they surely are nothing to be dreaded, but rather something to look forward to. We can tell you more of the summer later. We are nicely located. We commenced keeping house two days after we reached Tampa and have been ever since.

I have a splendid position in the largest furniture store here, and it looks very much as though Florida would be our future home.

We are, and have been, enjoying the best of health. Our greatest trouble being to get enough to eat and time to sleep, for we surely have some appetite for both. We find living here about the same as elsewhere. With the exception of poultry and dairy products, prices range about the same. Milk is 12c per quart.

They installed the automatic telephone system here the first of April, and our number was changed to 7-1278—so if any our friends want to call us, you can get us by that number.

Doubtless some who read this have spent as much or more time in Florida than I have, but I trust that it may prove of interest to some.

We are not losing sight of Newark. We get the Advocate every day and look forward to its coming for news from home.

be recharged.

What are the respective advantages and disadvantages of the T head and L head types of motors?

The T head motor, because its valves are located on opposite sides, allows of the use of large valves, and hence more power is obtainable than in the L head variety, other things, of course, being equal. It is usually more costly to construct than the L head type and has a more symmetrical appearance. The T head, however, is heavier and more complicated than the L head design, the latter using only one cam shaft and having the valves all on one side.

What are the advantages and disadvantages of the valve in the head motor?

The chief advantage claimed for the valve in the head motor is that, for a given size, it has more power than an L head or T head, because of the fact that larger valves may be used and the combustion chamber given a more spherical shape. There are a number of manufacturing advantages, one of which is that the entire combustion chamber may be machined and given a high polish, thus preventing, to a great extent, the accumulation of carbon.

The loss of heat through the cylinder walls of a motor depends to a great extent upon the surface of the walls, and in a properly designed valve in the head motor this wall area is small, compared with that of another type of motor of the same size. This reduction of wall area is obtained because of the absence of valve pockets.

The main disadvantage of the valve in the head motor, especially one using valve cages, is that the valve seats cannot be cooled as effectively as if the seats were a part of the casting. This is true in the cage construction, because the heat, in order to get from the valve seat to the water jacket, must overcome the resistance of the joint between the cage and the cylinder casting. This lack of cooling would not materially affect the inlet valves, as they are kept comparatively cool by the incoming gas, but it would mean more valve grinding in the case of the exhaust valves.

Is it possible to maintain pressure in a rear fuel tank when the tank cap is missing?

In cases of this sort take an old inner tube, cut out a piece about eight or ten inches long, tie one end tightly, so as to be air tight, then insert the tied end into the tank. Next remove the valve connection from the pump, insert the hose in the open end of the tube and pump until the tube completely fills the hole in the tank. Then tie the outer end securely. This contrivance will hold several pounds pressure in the tank and will last for some time.

Is three-eighths of an inch too much play in the wrist pin bushing?

Three-eighths of an inch is entirely too much play for the wrist pin bushing, assuming that up and down play is meant. There should be so little play that it cannot be felt by a movement of the wrist pin.

Can I silverize glass reflectors? If so, what are the ingredients and in what proportions are they used?

An amateur can silverize reflectors,
but it is very difficult to make a good job of it. The method by which this work has been carried out is as follows: First fasten to a block of wood the finest possible grade of emery cloth. With this the reflector is smoothed down to a fine finish. It is next necessary to have a melting pot and a thermometer which is capable of measuring more than 212 degrees.
Two ounces of lead, two ounces of tin and four ounces of chemically pure bismuth are melted together. Eight ounces of mercury are added at 212 degrees F. and mixed with the melted mixture. This is applied while warm with a smooth camel's hair brush.

Which will give the better results,
60 or 74 test gasoline?

As between 60 and 74 test gasoline, the 60 test fuel has been found to give the best results, as far as mileage is concerned. The gasoline which we get nowadays is much heavier than that on the market, say, five or ten years ago.

Can an expert gain any advantage by changing from automatic to hand control in a battery ignition system?

A skilled driver might get better results with a hand control of the spark than could be obtained with the automatic type of ignition control for the reason that grade climbing can be accomplished much easier and the loads of the motor considered. In other words, the driver can shift his spark to suit road and motor conditions and thus get the highest efficiency at all times.

In washing a car with a mixture of gasoline and water cut the grease? If so, how should it be applied?

No doubt the addition of gasoline to the water in connection with sponging the car will efficiently aid in the cutting of the grease. It would have to be applied either in a spray or sponge, as these are the only two practical methods of mixing it in such a way that it would combine closely enough to form a suitable mixture for cleaning. Kerosene is also frequently used in this manner with success.

I have a car with a two speed rear axle. Whenever I go down hill or over a bump with the clutch out I hear a rattle. What is the cause of this?

The rattle you mention is probably from the idle pinion on the rear axle.
In this axle there are two bevel pinions constantly in mesh, and one of these is always running idle and the particular gear which is delivering the power from the motor depends upon the position of a dog clutch. When the car goes over a rough spot with the clutch out there is a tendency for the drive shaft to revolve at an unequal rate of speed, due to the inequalities of the road, with the result that the idle pinion is alternately thrown backward and forward against the bevel gear, with which it meshes, thus making a rattle. There is always a certain amount of back lash in these gears, and the amount of noise will naturally depend upon the extent of this play.
There is nothing serious about this, as the noise occurs only at rare intervals, and then is not the indication of trouble.

Will you kindly tell me how to bend the gasoline and other tube lines in short arcs without the pipe flattening?

Copper tubing of small diameter can be readily bent into short curves by melting rosin and pouring it into the tube. When this becomes solid it solidi-fies within the tube. The tubing can be bent like a piece of solid copper. After the desired bend has been obtained the rosin can be run out by heating the tube with a blow torch.
Another method sometimes used is to fill the tube with sand but the rosin method gives the better results.

Why has a rotary valve engine five or seven cylinders instead of four, six or eight?

The odd number of cylinders gives a more even torque in a rotary cylinder engine. Questions of balance make an even number of cylinders preferable in the conventional type of motor.

Is it possible to start the motor in a car when the self starter fails to work and the crank is missing?

When the starter fails and the hand crank is not available the best method of starting the motor is to jack up one of the rear wheels so that it will turn without touching the ground. Then place the gear shift lever in high, and a few turns of the uplifter wheel will start the motor. Place the gear shift lever in neutral before letting down the jacked up wheel or you will have a runaway on your hands, or at least the motor will stall, and you will have all your work to do over again. Properly done the entire operation takes only a few moments.

What are the common causes for a motor missing fire?

Missing fire may be caused by an overrich or too lean mixture, by poor valve adjustment, inaccurate valve or ignition timing, leaks around the spark plugs, cylinder plugs, manifolds, etc., loose ignition wires, weak magnets, magnets, water in fuel, faulty spark plugs or those with poorly adjusted electrodes, carbon deposits in the cylinders and overloading.

When I throttle my car down on high gear it begins to jump and jerk as though the clutch were slipping. The clutch is all right, however. What can be the trouble?

The jumping and jerking action is probably due to the motor missing fire, caused either by poor ignition or faulty carburetion at low engine speeds. Mixtures may be too lean or too rich, there may be leaks in the intake manifold, or the spark plug points may be too far apart or too near together. Look at them first and see that they are spaced a thirty-second of an inch apart.
Then see that your vibrators are adjusted. If the trouble is still in evidence your magnets may be weak and require recharging.

What is the advantage or disadvantage of the cantilever spring in regard to the three-quarter elliptic?

The main advantage of the cantilever spring over the three-quarter elliptic is that it will give the same carrying capacity with the proper flexibility with considerably less weight. Another advantage lies in its slow period of vibration and the ability to eliminate rebound to a great extent. The weight of a cantilever is nearly all unsprung weight.

In the disadvantages the principal one is that a stiff frame is necessary and that a roll is given to the body when the car turns a corner.

FRENCH REPORT ENEMY REPULSED NORTH OF YPRES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, May 21.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"To the north of Ypres and to the east of the Yser canal, the enemy, at an early hour last night started an attack against our trenches. He was successful in the beginning in gaining a footing but an immediate counter attack resulted in his complete expulsion. At the same time we won ground beyond our original positions. In this fighting we took 120 prisoners."

"Further to the south British troops made some progress at a point north of LaBassee."

"At Notre Dame De Lorette and on the front between Souchez and Neuville St. Vast there were artillery exchanges during all of last night. "Nothing has been reported from the remainder of the front."

COURT DECIDES A GERMAN STEAMER A LAWFUL PRIZE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 21.—The prize court has decided that the German steamer Ophelia, captured in the North Sea by the British destroyer Meteor October 18, 1914, and brought into Yarmouth the following day was a lawful prize. Germany protested that this act of capture was in violation of The Hague convention, declaring that the Ophelia was a hospital ship. The British government contended that the Ophelia only purported to be a hospital ship and that as a matter of fact she was masquerading under false colors for scouting purposes.

WHY BRIGHT'S IS THOUGHT INCURABLE

Bright's Disease is generally thought incurable, and largely because Digitalis and Basham's Mixture do not cure it. And why should they? One is for the heart and the other is a mild iron tonic. The reason nothing is given for the kidneys is that the pharmacopoeia has not contained an agent that by direct action on the kidneys diminishes albuminuria. Hence the treatment is around the disease instead of it.

Given an agent that diminishes albuminuria, then measures for the waning heart, etc., begin to mean something. The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to diminish albuminuria in many cases of Bright's Disease IS A FACT IN PHYSICS established thousands of times and being constantly demonstrated. How can any one ignore a FACT IN PHYSICS when people are dying for lack of that very fact. It does not conflict, and can be added to the heart treatment, etc., commonly prescribed in Bright's Disease. But many recoveries have been reported under the Renal Compound unaided in patients having fair hearts and recuperative power.

COURAGE IS COMMON IN THIS WAR.

London, May 21.—Every Englishman knows how to die bravely. The Irish, Scotch and English soldiers face the bayonets, the machine guns as though out on dress parade. It is the men who sicken and die in the trenches, or at home after an arduous campaign that our sympathy goes out to most. There are thousands of such men behind the battle who went to the front without the strong constitution and good pure blood to withstand the deprivations, the hardships of the campaign in Belgium and France. It's a warning that we should pay strict attention to our stomach, liver and blood. If one is all out of sorts he should take an invigorating tonic and alternative such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates from the blood disease breeding poisons. It makes the blood rich and pure, and furnishes a foundation for sound, physical health. Fifty years ago, Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., found that certain barks and roots manufactured by using glycerine without the use of alcohol or opiates, made into a concentrated extract, which he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made a stimulating tonic for the stomach, helped the digestion and assimilation of the food and eradicated poisons from the blood. This is nature's cure for indigestion and by correcting the stomach, and thereby feeding the blood on pure materials, the red blood corpuscles are increased and the body established in a healthy state. No one suffers from catarrh who has plenty of red blood corpuscles and a good digestion. Catarrh in all its forms is a stagnation of the blood. Introduce pure red blood into the system by taking the "Medical Discovery" and health is assured.—Adv.

FIERCE BATTLE IS REPORTED ON PENINSULA NECK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 21.—Cabling from Athens, the correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company says fierce fighting is in progress near the neck of the Gallipoli peninsula. The big guns of the British battleship are being fired from the Gulf of Saros; thus assisting in the allies' attack. The Turks are being supported by the guns of the Sultan Selim (formerly the German cruiser Goeben, which are being fired from the Sea of Marmora. Turkish troops from Avlari, in Asia Minor, are said to have been transferred to the Dardanelles.

Newspapers of Athens, the correspondent declares, say the British authorities have increased to $10,000 the reward offered by them for information leading to the destruction of the German submarine, the presence of which has been reported in the Mediterranean.

PRESSING NEED FOR GOOD HORSES IN THE WAR ZONE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—Shipment of war horses through the Pittsburg stock yards from Western points by freight ceased entirely this week, but the number of cars going east by express increased to two or three cars on every fast passenger train. Buyers said that the pressing need for good horses in the war zone was responsible for the more expensive transportation to the seaboard.

RUSSIA REPORTS OF HEAVY LOSSES BY HER ENEMIES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Petrograd, via London, May 21.—An official statement referring to the recent fighting in the Carpathian mountains was issued here today and reads:

"In the fighting of the past three weeks, since the beginning of the operations of the enemy in the Carpathian mountains on May 10, 11, 12 and 13, during which the fighting lost some of its intensity, averaged 10,000 a day. On the other 17 days there were much heavier, especially during the period between May 16 and May 19, when they amounted to several tens of thousands daily.

"Certain regiments of the enemy have been reduced to a single company. Their total losses during this period, including 40,000 prisoners captured by us, have undoubtedly reached to one fourth or perhaps one third of their total strength.

"The score of guns lost by the enemy in this fighting is as nothing compared with their total number, but it must be borne in mind that owing to the lack of horses and the scarcity of projectiles—between two and three million shells have been expended by the enemy during this period—the enemy left behind on old positions several hundred guns. This circumstance has helped to equalized the odds which were in favor of the enemy."

FATHERS' DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY CENTRAL CHURCH

The Central Church of Christ will observe Fathers' Day Sunday evening, May 23, at the regular hour of worship, 7:30 o'clock. This service will be conducted by the Loyal Men's Brotherhood. There will be appropriate music by the chorus choir, and also by a male quartet. A unique and original feature of the program will be a pantomime representing an ideal home. It will be participated in by a family of nine, consisting of father and mother and seven children. There will be a speaker who will explain each scene, and while he is talking, the members of the family will act their respective parts. It will be in six scenes, and will occupy about 15 or 20 minutes. One scene will represent the father up at 2 o'clock in the morning, caring for a sick child. Another scene will show the family in the sitting-room in the morning, after breakfast. The father comes in with his dinner pail, and, bidding his family good-bye, starts off to work, followed soon by the older children starting to school. Another scene shows the whole family gathered around the table for evening worship. The 23rd Psalm will be read, and while the family all kneel reverently, and the pianist playing softly "Home Sweet Home" the pastor will offer a family prayer. The last scene will show father's chair vacant, and the family in deep mourning. It will close with the singing of the song entitled, "One Vacant Chair." The pastor will then preach a sermonette, subject, "The Father and His Son." It is expected that the Loyal Men's Bible class will sit in a body during the service. All other men, who care to come, are cordially invited to join them. The meeting will be open to all, both men and women, and all will be heartily welcome. Let every one wear a white carnation, or other white flower, in honor of father.

Good Roads Day To Be Observed In West Virginia

(Associated Press Telegram)
Charleston, W. Va., May 21.—Thousands of men responded to the proclamation of Governor H. D. Hatfield setting aside May 20 and 21 as "good roads day," and aided in the improvement of highways in West Virginia. Many who were physically unable to respond, contributed money to the cause, and many women's organizations served meals to the workers. Estimates received here placed the number of men who worked on the roads the first day at 27,000.

Why the Blues?
Every one loves the blue sky with its brightness, warmth and softness. Hundreds have written of it in glowing terms of praise, while the hard-hearted millionaires have felt what they expressed. Who does not love a pair of blue eyes—laughing blue eyes, true blue eyes, tender blue eyes, Irish blue eyes? The men who follow the sea love her every mood and hue, and yet for her sparkling sapphire cloak they would have her don on the happiest occasions. "It is impossible in our condition of society not to be sometimes a snob," wrote Thackeray—not to have a heart that would relish pumping a little blue blood along with the red. But when our thoughts are dull, depressed and drear, like an unkind wintry gray-sky, we are in the blues. Why this paradoxical deflection of the color which is associated with so many of the fair and pleasing things of life? If we must vilify a color there are yellow, canaries and jaundice. There are red devils and danger. Why the blues?—Boston Globe.

Smokeless Powder.
Ordinary powder produces smoke when fired because of the quantity of fine particles formed from the breaking up of the saltpeter and from some of the charcoal which is not completely burned. To get rid of this smoke, so long a handicap in the use of guns, it was necessary to produce a substance that would explode without leaving any solid residue. This was accomplished by the use of gun cotton or nitrocellulose, from which the most satisfactory smokeless powder is made. The substance is a chemical compound, not a mixture like gunpowder, and is made by treating cotton with a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids. When exploded it is all converted into gases. Burning is not necessary to cause an explosion, a mere shock or jar being sufficient. It is too violent an explosive to use in small arms or in cannon, but gun cotton can be made into less forceful forms, suitable for use in guns, and most brands of smokeless powder are made in this way.—Boston Herald.

Japanese Hotel Bedrooms.
In "Queer Things About Japan" Douglas Sladen gives a picture of the Japanese hotel bedroom, which still leaves much to be desired in comfort and privacy: "Before dinner is over you begin to long for your bed. You ask to be taken to your bedroom, but your bedroom is taken to you. Its walls and the bed are brought in. The walls are paper shutters which make a slice of the sitting room your own; the bed is a quilt. 'Take up your bed and walk' is an everyday occurrence in the east, where a bed is a spread. The only way a European can get any comfort out of a Japanese bed is to sleep on about half a dozen at once, one on top of the other. If you want to wash you must do it outside. The Japanese will not allow a basin of water on their precious mats."

Pepys' View of Baths.
Pepys' view of baths—probably representative of his generation—may be gathered from a contemptuous reference to his wife's whimsical notion, after spring cleaning, of going to a hot bath in town to "cleanse herself." However, he reflected consolingly, the new passion for cleanliness was not likely to last. The idea of Pepys' French contemporaries on the same subject is illustrated in a little book on Christian conduct, by Jean Baptiste de la Salle. "For the sake of cleanliness," says the author, "it is well to rub the face every morning with a white towel, in order to remove the dirt. It is not advisable to wash with water, for this exposes the face to the chills of winter and the heats of summer."

His Birthmark.
An Irishman who had just traveled from Dublin to Glasgow to seek employment was informed that he had a poor chance of getting a job because he was displaying marks consistent with pugilism.

"You mean that I've a black-eye, sir, eh?"
"Exactly."
"Shure, that's only a birthmark which I have. You see, sir, I was coming from Dublin on the boat, and by a mistake I went into the wrong berth, and the fellow who was there gave me this."—London Answers.

Coleridge Revised.
The ancient mariner had just uttered that immortal line about "Water, water everywhere."
"That's all very well," came echoing back over the angry seas, "but the thirst is yet to come."
Whereupon the ancient mariner raved "verse" with "curse" and did other horrible poetical things.—Philadelphia Ledger.

How He Won.
First Business Man—To what do you attribute your success? Second Business Man—To the fact that I was always first at the office. For seventeen years I caught the 6:15 into town. First Business Man—Ah, I see! All due to your early training.—Columbia Jester.

MADE HIS GROCERY BILL GROW BIGGER

VERY - WORTH WONDERFULLY
BOOSTED THE CONDUCTOR'S APPETITE.

Enough has been said in this space about the wonderful sales of Nerv-Worth at Huntington, West Va., to arouse the keen interest of the remedy's legion of friends in Newark. The last statement reported the sale there at retail of about 100 bottles a week. It now remains to be said that the Boggess drug store in Huntington is selling at retail 140 bottles a week.

This wonderful sale and wonderful increase is due to the extraordinary merits of the medicine, backed up by the acute gratitude of users, who in unprecedented numbers gave out written statements reciting the benefits they had received. These statements being printed in Huntington's newspapers attracted marked attention and sold hundreds of bottles of Nerv-Worth. Here is a sample statement given by Wm. Jordan, a highly esteemed conductor of the Huntington-Ashland Interurban line: "I had stomach trouble, my digestion was very poor, the food I would eat would do me no good. Did not eat much at any time, but there was gas on my stomach and no sleep and no rest. I was tired in the morning, had headaches and bowels were in trouble all the time. After taking one bottle of Nerv-Worth, I weigh ten pounds more in weight (now 150, was 140). My trouble about all gone, but my grocery bill is getting larger."
The T. J. Evans drug store sells Nerv-Worth, $1.00 a bottle. Guaranteed.

CONVENTION

OF ZANESVILLE DISTRICT MISSIONARY SOCIETY CONCLUDED ITS WORK

Ellis Island and San Francisco's "Chinatown" Were Subjects of Interesting Addresses.

The convention of the Zanesville District of the Woman's Home Missionary society, which was in session on Thursday in the East Main Street M. E. church, concluded its work on Thursday evening.

Following the address of Miss Dunlap, national field organizer on Thursday afternoon, Dr. Herbert Scott, pastor of the Grace M. E. church in Zanesville, spoke on "Some of My Observations on the Pacific Coast." He told of his trip through Chinatown, in San Francisco, and although Chinatown, since the earthquake is greatly improved, Dr. Scott said that the tragedy and pathos of it still remained. He told of the telephone system of this "underground world," how Chinese girls operated the switchboards, and how a section of the directory of the telephone company is in the Chinese language.

During his stay in the city visits were made to the Chinese and Japanese homes conducted by the Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church. "One of my most distinct impressions was the systematic training that was given the inmates of these institutions," said the speaker. He continued, "If Methodism is to show the great strides in progress in the future, and repeat its achievements of the past it is not because Methodism merely repeats its successful methods but because it has learned to adapt itself to the conditions that have arisen."

Dr. Scott was followed by Rev. L. C. Sparks, pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, who also, has but recently returned from a trip to California. Dr. Sparks gave a very interesting talk.

In the evening the session opened with a devotional service and the Queen Esther of the East Main Street church, gave an entertainment entitled "A Visit from the Home Missionary Family."

The address of the evening was delivered by Miss Olive Dunlap who spoke on "Ellis Island and the Problem of the Immigrants." The speaker told of the work which has been done there among the foreigners coming into this country by Miss Allen Matthews, who has been located at Ellis Island for the past 27 years. She was placed there by the Home Missionary Society and her experience has been vast. Miss Dunlap told of the prevailing conditions, especially at this time when thousands are being detained on the island owing to the great European war.

Following the address of Miss Dunlap, the resolutions were presented and the meeting closed with benediction.

TWO SCORE AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Fifty years ago the great struggle for our national existence, to which so many heroes gave their lives and those who died later their best days, was ended in victory.

We do not rejoice because of the victory of the north over the south, but because of the victory which marked the last step in the governmental progress of the human race and demonstrated that men can govern themselves.

We meet on Memorial day at the graves of those who died in the days of strife and of those who survived that struggle and yet have reached their last resting place, the bivouac of the dead.

Upon them the government leaned as upon pillars of safety. In the days when they might have been preparing for the future struggles of life they were serving their country; they were fighting her battles; they were doing their duty as patriots in striving for the advance of the human race.

Amid the roar of artillery, the crashing of shells, the malicious whisperings of the little minie, the gleaming bayonets and flashing sabers they bore the shock of battle in defense of their country. Aye, more than that, their heroism and the heroism of their comrades through four years of bloody strife lifted their country high among the nations of the earth, where she stands today, the sovereign of them all.

Two score and ten years ago the tramp of armed hosts homeward bound was heard throughout the length and breadth of our land. Guns were stacked, ranks were broken and then began another march, the march of citizens who had left behind them the tented field, to their homes and the boundless, unpeopled west, where they and their descendants yet live and add to the strength and patriotism of our great commonwealth.

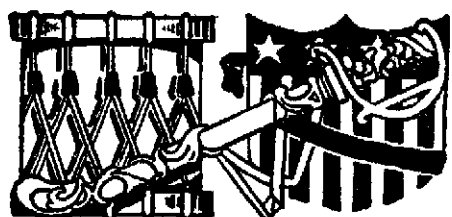

The Old Vets.
They march down the dusty street,
A little squad, whose lagging feet
Heed not the drums' loud rhythm.
And mark, a cane supplants the gun!
'Twas not like this in sixty-one,
When youth and health were with 'em.

The squad was then a regiment,
The forms were straight that now are bent.

While Gettysburg, Antietam,
Were quite unknown and minie ball
And gaunt disease and prison pall
Had not essayed to beat 'em.

The boys who wore the Union blue
Are now "old vets," and comrades true
Beneath the sod are lying.
But o'er the living and the dead,
O'er crumpled skull and silvered head,
The stars and stripes are flying.
—Edwin L. Sabin in Chicago Inter Ocean.

Grant's "Big Contract."

While the Union army was at Culpeper Court House, getting ready to deliver the terrific blows which were destined to end the Southern Confederacy, General Grant wrote the following letter to a cousin in St. Louis:

"Headquarters Armies of the United States, Culpeper C. H., Va., April 24, 1864.

"Dear Cousin—Julia has gone to New York city and will probably remain a couple of weeks before going to St. Louis. In the meantime I shall not hear from the children unless they write to me direct. I wish you would urge them all to join in letters to me every week. I feel anxious to hear from them always, and then it improves them quite as much to write letters as to study their lessons. How do Buck and Nellie progress in their German?"

"Jess has cut his eyeteeth mingling with Washington society. He has become independent and a great favorite with both ladies and gentlemen at Willard's school. He is still very anxious to get back to St. Louis to go to school. "Kiss all the children for me, and the young ladies, too, if you like. I should like to see you all very much, but I have a big contract on hand to complete before I can expect to indulge in such pleasure. U. S. GRANT."

Roy's Grandpa Soldier.
I brought blue violets from the dell
For grandpa's grave today,
For grandpa says he loved them well
Before he marched away.

The other grandpas all are old,
With thin hair almost gray,
But he has curls that shine like gold
And blue eyes full of play.

Grandma showed me his picture, hung
Upon a chain of gold;
How strange that he should be so young
And she should be so old!
—Ninette M. Lowater in Wisconsin Memorial Day Annual.

New York, May 21.—President Alan R. ARTIFICIAL

SYSTEM OF FINANCIAL EXCHANGE THROUGH LONDON, WITH SOUTH AMERICA.

Should be Enlaid, and a Direct one Adopted Says U. S. Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Canvass of sentiment among delegates to the Pan-American conference, which begins here next week, indicates that one result expected is the perfection of plans for the establishment of direct or "dollar exchange" between the United States and Central and South American countries.

"The present system," says a treasury department statement today, "which requires the settling of all balances through London has been a severe handicap and particularly so since the outbreak of the European war. There is a widespread desire to put an end to this artificial system."

The statement points out that the war has threatened seriously to handicap the development of railroad and street railway transportation in these countries and that one important purpose of the conference is to devise some plan by which South American needs along these lines may be met by North American capital.

"The political stability of the countries and the full protection that is given to foreign capital," says the statement, "should make this field an attractive one to American investors. Furthermore, the financing of such enterprises by American capital will mean a greatly extended market for American manufacturers."

Every Day Etiquette

"What does the bride do with a glove and bouquet and who keeps the ring for the groom?" inquired the inquiring prospective bride.

"The bride gives her bouquet and glove to the maid-of-honor, who keeps them until the benediction is said. The best man keeps the ring for the groom, and hands it to him when it is time for the groom to place the ring on the bride's finger," were her mother's calm instructions.

"My hair always reminds me of a fool and his money," mused the baldheaded man. "It is soon parted."

HAPPY FAMILY OF DOGS AND MONKEYS

SNYDER COACHING PARTY WILL BE HERE WITH GENTRY BROTHERS SHOWS.

Unique Performance of Animals Brings Delight to Children and Fascinates Their Parents.

A touch of nature makes the whole world kin, and the touch of nature that is brought out by the "Snyder Family" with Gentry Brothers Famous Shows brings all audiences to hearty laughter. The Snyder Family is the unique climax of an idea conceived by one of the trainers. The trainer is also a mechanic.

At odd times around winter quarters he built a little family carriage, made a tiny set of harness, several dresses, and everything else that goes to make up the togetherness for a family out riding.

Then he drew upon dogs and monkeys for his characters. Two big dogs were chosen for steeds. Another big dog, but of different color, was chosen for "Mr. Snyder." Then "Mrs. Snyder" was found, and a nice new dress was fitted.

From among many other dogs a little terrier was chosen for the "Snyder Baby." Of course the baby had to have a nurse. A monkey was elected and a larger monkey chosen for the coachman. After much rehearsal the animals were working perfectly. Now they drive in state into the tent of Gentry Brothers Famous Shows.

The family pays a visit while the monkey nurse takes the baby outside. When the coach returns it is turned over. The coachman rights it, and the nurse attends the injured members.

The manner in which these animals go through their entertaining work is one of the most laughable features of Gentry Brothers Famous show. With them the "Snyder Family" will visit this city next Monday, May 24.

For this city only admission is especially reduced to 25 cents and 35 cents.

In the Australian savings fund there are, on the average, $70 deposited for each man, woman and child in the country.

LARCENY

CHARGED AGAINST SCHOONER'S CAPTAIN WHO REFUSED TO GIVE UP FLOATING MINE

Which He Found at Sea Thursday, to the United States Naval Authorities.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 21.—Captain Henry Austrom, of the fishing schooner Myrtle Anderson, was to be arraigned today on a charge of larceny on the high seas for refusing to surrender to United States naval officers a floating mine he picked up off Cape Flattery Thursday. The mine, the naval officers say, is one of three missing from Fort Worden at the entrance of Puget Sound and is empty and harmless.

Captain Austrom, however, refused to surrender it for the standing reward of $20, demanding a larger sum.

He asserted that it had not been definitely identified as United States property and contended that if it was one of those mines as several persons asserted, planted to protect British Columbia harbors, the dominion authorities would pay a larger reward than the $20.

He was taken before United States commissioner who released him on $500 bail. The mine was still aboard the schooner today.

GOOD PRICES AT ART WORKS SALE

Philadelphia, May 21.—The Valley of Valmondia, by Charles Francois Daubigny, was sold for $4,250 at a sale of paintings by ancient and modern masters here yesterday. This was the highest price brought by any of the canvases in the sale. A Carol, the "Village of Avory," was sold for $3,250.

Among the artists represented in the collection were Nattier, David, Voge-Lebrun, Van Loo, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Sir Martin Shee, Gainsborough-Dupont, Isabeau, Tyron, Schreyer, Jacque and Rosa Bonheur.

Happy Thought.
"I want to see the government own everything," said the discontented man.

"Maybe it might be a good idea," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "I have a few things that I would like to sell."

MEN WANTED TO HARVEST GRAIN AT $3 DAY AND BOARD.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, May 21.—From 16,000 to 18,000 men will be needed in Oklahoma during June for grain harvest work, according to a bulletin from the federal department of labor received here today. Wages will range from $2 to $3 per day and board, the bulletin states.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF WEST NEWARK CHURCH OF CHRIST

About eight years ago Brother L. O. Thompson, seeing the need of the West Side of the city for Bible training, organized a Bible school in the Cherry Valley school house. This he conducted until he was called to minister to a church in another part of the state. Not long after, Brother Allen Mitchell again started the work at corner of West Main street and Eighteenth streets. Although the school did not average a large attendance, much good was done by the "faithful few," and the co-operation of the Central Church and its pastor, Brother J. M. Stokes and Brother W. D. Ward, each holding a short series of meetings for the mission at different times, did much good.

In June, 1914, through the co-operation of the Central Church, a lot was purchased at the corner of West Main and William streets. Near this a new home was found in the basement of a store building. This proved unfit for use, and our present home, the Elizabeth M. E. chapel was rented. Evangelists Rochester Irwin and wife were called to hold a series of meetings, which resulted in effecting a permanent organization, March 28, 1915, with 152 charter members, 75 of these coming from the Central Church and 77 by confession and baptism, or from other churches. Our present Bible school will average about 175. Next Sunday, May 23, will be another great day in the history of the church. Brother L. J. Cahill, a Cleveland, secretary of the O. C. M. S. will be with us to preach at each of the services and re-dedicate the house to the service of God.

Let everybody interested in the church come and sit in a substantial way, so that a sum worthy of the cause may be raised to make the first payment on the church.

This May Bride Traveled 5,000 Miles to Wed.

The wedding day had been set a year ago, and the groom had promised to return all the way from China, where he was at work on the construction of a railroad. She had looked forward to that day with the same yearning that is in the heart of every woman. To her, as to most brides, it was to be the biggest day of her life.

Then came a cable that he could not possibly get closer than Honolulu on the day set for the wedding. But that didn't daunt an American girl, and she was not going to have her dream shattered.

"We will meet him there," she said to her mother, and before that staid and untraveled old lady could be made to understand, the bridal gown had been packed in a trunk and the tickets purchased.

But the steamer which neared Honolulu, on the day of days, was late. The dusk had come down over the harbor when the vessel slowly felt her way in.

"Will he be here to meet us?" the mother inquired over and over again anxiously.

And the daughter caught this doubt. She was outwardly calm, but a storm broke within. Her nervousness developed into desperation. Suddenly she made up her mind. She put on the gown, and then came forth on the deck in the soft Hawaiian evening to watch the sights as the ship moved along into her pier.

Passengers crowded about wonderingly, but she showed no sign. She just stood there looking into the distance at the pier. No prima Puritanic frock did the passengers see on this dauntless American girl who had gone 5,000 miles for her wedding. It bespoke the bride's own daring and kept correctly to the 1915 requirements of such costumes.

For her pretty neck and arms she followed a departure from past night-necked, long-sleeved modes, in a décolletage, modestly bridged, and sleeves just below the elbow.

The daring and individuality of the bride showed in this rich, panne satin and brilliant studding of rhinestones over the skirt panel and bodice front. The side panels are of tiered lace.

A Juliette cap of pearls, set with orange buds and hung with veil of herra lace, was her original idea.

"He's there, mother," cried the bride with her eyes on the crowd at the pier. And at that moment he saw her, a vision in white. The passengers made way for her, and she was the first off the vessel. She fell into his arms, bridal gown and all. There were tears in her eyes, and she was almost to the breaking point under the strain. He knew why.

"I guess," said he, the first thing we need is a parson."

She is survived by her husband, one son, William, and the following brothers and sisters: William, John and Charles Showman and Miss Nan Showman of Cherry Valley, Mrs. C. E. Nash of Kenton, Mrs. W. E. Ling of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. Edna Hickerson, Tucuman, New Mexico and Mrs. Frank Doomey of this city. Frank Showman who died in March, was a brother.

Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Calvin Hazlett officiating. Burial at Cedar Hill cemetery.

JOHN J. CARROLL

In Milady's Boudoir

BY GWEN SEARS.

Usually, one has more time for face massage when retiring than in the morning, when everyone is in a haste and breakfast is waiting. So, after the face has its warm bath for the night and before the dash of cold water is applied to harden the muscles, rub the massage cream gently into the skin and proceed to whisk away the wrinkles and lines left by the day's worries.

We will begin with the crow's feet at the corners of the eyes. Apply the massage cream and begin a gentle rotary action with the cushioned tips of the fingers, working up and away from the eye toward the ear. One must be careful that the fingers are held in just the right position, so that the nails do not scratch and bruise the skin.

There will also be some little lines under the eyes, especially near the nose. Place some cream upon them, being careful that the cream does not enter the eye. Close the eye and proceed to smooth the lines out gently with the tips of one finger, using a backward and forward movement.

If the cheeks are thin or one is desirous of color, permanently or in an emergency, a gentle pinching of the cheeks will do much toward these ends. One must be careful not to pinch too hard, and certainly the pinching must not be continued long enough to make the face tender to the touch.

Proper massage of the face rarely brings discomfort. On the other hand, massage usually soothes the tired muscles at the end of the day. For color in emergency the flesh is gently but firmly grasped between thumb and forefinger, and this thumb and forefinger are then turned back toward the ear in screw fashion, gently turning the imprisoned cheek with them.

About two minutes of this massage will bring the desired color. Massage properly done is indeed a treat to health, youth, and beauty, but do be sure that you know what you are doing before you go ahead. The same massage motions may be used on the neck, chest and arms.

Sense of Humor.

A sense of humor preserves all who have it from extremes. It warns away from the confines of the petty and ridiculous and produces very often the same tolerant effects as magnanimity, revealing through laughter that reasonable line of thought which was obscured by logic.

Crust of the Earth.

The volume of the rocky crust of the earth, estimated as ten miles thick, including the mean elevation of the land above the sea, is 1,632,000,000 cubic miles.

Some buying for an export house caused the May option to lead the advance. Opening prices, which varied from 1 cent off to 1/2 cent advance, were followed by gains all around and then a steady reaction.

Corn rallied, owing to the bulge in wheat. Lower cable quotations led to a little weakness at first. After opening 1/2 cent to 3/4 cent down, the market advanced above last night's level.

Oats traders took their cue from the action of wheat. Business, however, was not large.

Higher prices for hogs tended to lift provisions. Offerings on the hard spots though were quite firm.

Wall Street.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 21.—A steady tone prevailed in the early stock market. Issues of all classes showing gains. These extended to a full point in the case of the so-called war specialties. United States Steel, Copper and Mexican Petroleum joined in the advance. Substantial after-noon reaction followed. The market was moderate scale indications pointing to a dull day.

Missouri Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Rock Island manifested renewed weakness. Trading in the first hour was moderate, but the unusual character of the market was gauged from the fact that the most active issue in that period was Crucible Steel, which gained 1/2 point. Speculators, who gained related war specialties,
lost the feature of the high priced railway securities. By noon, the bullishness ruled and prices showed recessions ranging from fractions to a full point. Bonds were easy.

War and Counterfeits.
Prior to Napoleon's 1812 campaign the Paris gendarmes one night made a raid on a house in the Plaine Mont-rouge and discovered quite a fine manufacture of false notes. There was quite a stir next day when the police minister made the announcement that the manufacture had been started "by order of the emperor." The false notes, which were Austrian and Russian instead of French, were intended for use against the enemy on the Russian expedition, but the bulk of them came to grief during the great retreat.

Wellington was responsible for a similar stroke of business during the peninsular war. Being badly in need of gold when about to invade France, he conceived the queer idea of hunting out some counterfeit coins from the ranks. Quite a number of these century were forthcoming, and these were ordered by the duke to exercise their evil art by transferring his English sovereigns into Louis d'or and napoleons.—London Globe.

The Stronger Hand.
If you are right handed, then the right hand is stronger than the left. If you are left handed the left hand will be stronger. If you are truly ambidextrous the strength of both hands will be equal. The advantage of one hand over the other is due to the greater exercise it may receive. All the muscles of our arms and legs are developed by exercise, and their respective strength will be in accordance with their use.

That the right hand is stronger than the left can be proved by discontinuing the use of the right arm for several weeks by tying it to the side of your body. When you release the arm you will find that much of its strength is gone and that now the left hand is stronger. This applies to a right handed person, and the test would work the other way with a left handed person. This goes to show that the strength of hands and arms is unconsciously affected by the amount of rational exercise.—Exchange.

Our Mineral Wealth.
The United States is not only the world's greatest producer of mineral wealth, but it possesses by far the greatest known reserve of any nation in most of the important minerals.

This is one of the things that has made us great and which is destined to make us far greater as measured by world standards. In some instances, such as coal and oil and phosphate rock and radium ore, the United States possesses more than all the other known deposits of the world, and the only essential minerals of the first rank of which the United States has no known supply at all commensurate with its needs are nitrates, potash salts, tin, nickel and platinum. But as it stands today no other nation in the world so nearly approaches absolute independence in respect to mineral resources, notwithstanding the vast magnitude of our home consumption.—Review of Reviews.

The Professions.
The census has provided us with a definition of the "professions." A good many folk have wondered a good many times what the "professional classes" were. The census has decided. They constitute—

Actors.
Architects, designers, draftsmen, etc.
Artists and teachers of art.
Clergymen (including religious and charity workers).
Dentists.
Journalists.
Lawyers (including abstractors, no-taries and justices of peace).
Literary and scientific persons.
Musicians and teachers of music.
Physicians and surgeons (including nonmedical healers).
Schoolteachers, professors in colleges, etc.—New York Press.

The Earth's Shadow.
The earth has a shadow, but few ever see it except in eclipses of the moon. Nevertheless, many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer, shortly before sunset, a rosy or pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes
it. This is the shadow of the earth.

Language Mixed.
"That," said the physician, as he examined the lump on the man's neck,
"is the remains of an old boil that started to come and then became en-cysted there."

"Well," said the unlettered patient,
"it sure has encysted on stayin' there."
—Chicago Post.

Early Writing Implements.
When writing Confucius used a small brush, like a camel's hair brush, for a pen, and so did his ancestors for centuries before his time. The reed came into use for writing in the marshy countries of the orient. It was shooled and cut in short lengths.

Lucky Dog.
"She calls her dog and her husband by the same pet name. It must cause frequent confusion."

"Not at all. She always speaks gently to the dog."—Jugend.

Incongruous.
Mamie—That Mrs. Flipp is a great matchmaker, isn't she? Tessie—I used to think so until she bought her red haired husband a purple necktie.

it by airship? Tom—No; by heliograph.

Submarine F-4
IS LIFTED OFF
OCEAN'S FLOOR

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 21.—The submarine F-4 lost in Honolulu harbor with 19 lives nearly two months ago, has at last been lifted clear of the ocean's bottom, but naval officers have no assurance that the first galley will not part the cable again. Whether the cause of her loss can be determined after such a long period of submersion is doubtful.

Peace and War.

peace and 3,130 years of war—that is,
one year of peace to fourteen of war.

OREN J. ANDERSON FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

The body of Oren J. Anderson, who died in Detroit, a few hours after being thrown from an automobile, will arrive in Newark this evening at 4:50 o'clock, and will be taken to the home of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Anderson, corner of Tenth and Hoover street. Short funeral services will be held there on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. D. A. Greene officiating. Burial will take place in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The Detroit Free Press has the following account of the accident in which Mr. Anderson met death: "A fractured skull suffered in a headlong fall to the pavement in an automobile collision in Fort street, west, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in the death four hours later of Oren J. Anderson, 31 years old, chief chemist for the Detroit Graphite company."

"Anderson was standing on the running board of a machine driven by W. J. Boston, foreman of the graphite plant. There were five men in the car. According to the story Boston later told to the police George T. Warrington, 30 Farrand avenue, Highland Park, turned his automobile suddenly in front of the Boston car, causing the collision. Anderson was catapulted to the pavement. Both machines were badly damaged. "Anderson, a graduate of Ohio State and Wisconsin Universities had been a chemist for the Graphite concern for two years. His widow and a baby survive. The family home is at 122 Dexter street."

NEW VASES AND WASTE BOXES IN CT. HOUSE SQUARE

Four new combination waste boxes and flower vases have been placed in position in the court house park and next week the vases will be filled with flowering plants. The new fixtures stand five feet high, the vase being placed on a hollow cast iron base. A trap door in the front of the base is labelled "for waste paper," and inside is a large sack which is removed and emptied when filled. The new fixture is ornamental and practical. It is a product of a Dayton factory and by replacing the more unsightly waste boxes will add to the beauty of the court house square which has been improved at considerable expense this spring.

CIGARETTE AND LIQUOR TAX BEGIN ON NEXT MONDAY

Of this number, 365 saloons were abolished because they were noisy neighborhood nuisances, and 309 because they were frequented by women and girls. Forty-three roadhouses and 84 barrel houses were closed. In the segregated district 175 saloons had to quit and 153 were refused licenses because they were known to be the resorts of petty crooks. Sixty saloons frequented by gamblers were among those to quit, while 143 were forced out of business because a certain class of negroes made headquarters of them.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]
Granville, May 21. Granville is feeling proud today in the possession of the musical talent which has made possible the successful culmination of so great an undertaking as the Spring Festival just closed. The "Stabat Mater" presented on Wednesday evening by the Engwerson chorus and local soloists, was so gratifying in its artistic merit that the public woke up to its own neglected opportunities, and despite the rain and mud, filled the house for the orchestra concert on Thursday afternoon and for the "Samson and Delilah" production in the evening. The orchestra, which with one exception, was composed of home talent, gave a performance which afforded unbounded pleasure to the critical audience assembled. The Offenbach Overture, with its brilliant orchestration, opened the program. Written in the style of the light French Opera Buffa, its pleasing themes are over new. The orchestra played this with precision and dash.

The Suite Norwegian, which followed, gave the spirit of the north-laud folk music. The "Pagan Dance" with its quaint rhythm was most interesting. The "Jarmel" prelude, upon a re-iterated figure in the violin staccato was unique in its color. Miss Smith played a solo aria from Schumann, to which the orchestra accompanied softly. The most difficult number on the program was the Chabrier "March Joyeuse." Of extreme ultra-modern French harmonies, rapidly shifting color schemes, this number was one which any Symphony orchestra finds exceedingly difficult.

The Polonaise from Tchaikovsky's opera, "Eugene Onegin," only needed the assistance of a company of Russians in a stately polonaise to completely convey the old-time Impression. Mock Morris, the final number, is written by a young Australian composer just coming to the front. His arrangements of old English dance music have been played by all the leading orchestras this season and Granville was indeed fortunate to hear this novelty.

Altogether the program was one of great interest, several of the numbers being unusual on a program of this sort, because of their modernity and interest for the student of ultra-modern music.

Program:
Overture "Orpheus in der Unterwelt"
Norwegian Suite.....Schytte
Pagan Dance.....Schytte
Jarmel.....Schytte
Rhapsodie.....Schytte

Polonaise.....Tchaikovsky
Aria from Sonata Op. 11.....Schumann
Marche Joyeuse.....Chabrier
Polonaise from "Eugene Onegin"
Mock Morris.....Percy A. Grainger
Denison Orchestra.

The house was well filled on Thursday evening for the Saint-Saëns "Samson and Delilah," heard here for the first time, the audience growing more enthusiastic and responsive with each succeeding number.

The first act gives the finest opportunity for chorus and soloists, and the second act as a unit. The direction, the precision, force and feeling the chorus gave to their work was most pleasing to all. The shadowing crescendos and the vocal chiaroscuro especially. The entire work is dramatic and is especially difficult to give the dramatic character without the aid of scenery, costumes, etc., but it certainly was conveyed to every one in the audience. Whether the chorus were the mourning Hebrews, the reproaching Israelites, the old men of the nation or the victorious conquerors, they changed their mood and vocal color admirably to express each sentiment. The final cry of the chorus as the temple falls, was wonderful in its intensity.

The soloists were admirable. Miss Hirschberg-Lyon was very dramatic, she has fine warmth to her low tones and intensity without loss of quality in her upper ones. The limitations of the concert stage were admirably recognized in her interpretation of this intense and fervid role. The guile, the allurements, the passion of the enchantress were conveyed to the audience simply by the music of voice and personality of the singer. At the conclusion of the scene which depicts the subjugation of "Samson," Miss Hirschberg-Lyon received the applause of Granville, and received the tribute of a spontaneous recall. A magnificent bouquet of roses, from the chorus, was a graceful recognition of her popularity.

Mr. Schenke sustained his role in admirable style. Both voice and diction were instinct with dramatic force, and his "Samson" was satisfying to his hearers. Mr. Paul Curtis, bass, and Mr. Gerald Athy, bass, were the local soloists who sustained the reputation each has gained for conscientious, artistic work. Miss Fannie J. Fairar at the piano gained fresh laurels for her brilliant work in accompanying chorus and soloists, and Miss Lella C. Brown presided at the organ with grace and efficiency. But it is to the conductor, Mr. Karl H. Eschman, that the greatest praise is due for his faithful attention to the exacting duties of his position as head of the several musical organizations, no less than to his brilliant musical genius which gives him "the vision" for great undertakings.

At the "Samson and Delilah" concert last evening in the Baptist church, Prof. M. E. Stickney addressed the audience in behalf of next year's festival course which is to include a symphony orchestra. He is president of the Musical Festival Association, which has been reorganized with many of the old officers in charge, and a splendid board of trustees to back it. He asked that those interested would indicate the material amount of their interest by filling out and signing the blank forms passed by the ushers. The obvious advantage to subscribers is that they have first choice of seats—a matter of some importance, perhaps in case of a crowded house—and the house has always

DRUNKEN MAN USES HORSE WHIP ON MEN IN A BUGGY

Pedestrians in West Church street Thursday afternoon were startled to see a drunken man stagger into the street, stop a buggy in which two men were riding, and administer a thrashing to the men, using their own whip.

He was on the sidewalk when the rig approached and staggered into the street, seizing the horse by the bridle. He "rolled" rather than walked to the front wheel, jerked out the whip and delivered three or four cuts with the whip, striking one or both men with each blow. The horse became frightened, ran to Third street, where the rig turned and came back to where the man was standing with the whip. He replaced the whip in the socket and the two men drove off.
